Waterford-Kettering High School opened her doors for the first time to her students September 18, 1961. When we arrived, she greeted us with the smell of paint still lingering in the halls, an unfinished wing, unfinished classrooms, and an empty library. For several weeks our schedules were disrupted. Art classes could not be found meeting in the art room but in the court. While construction was underway, classes were held in the cafeteria, the library, and in the three lobbies. As the gym was undivided, one could always find two physical education teachers competing against each other's voices. Our first all-school pep assembly was held outdoors on the hill before we had even formally entered school, and the second in the gym without any seating facilities. After many weeks of carrying what seemed to be a ton of books home and back every night, we received our lockers. Finally the "500" wing was opened, and we moved into our shiny, new rooms. Eventually our new furniture and classroom supplies arrived, and things became somewhat settled.

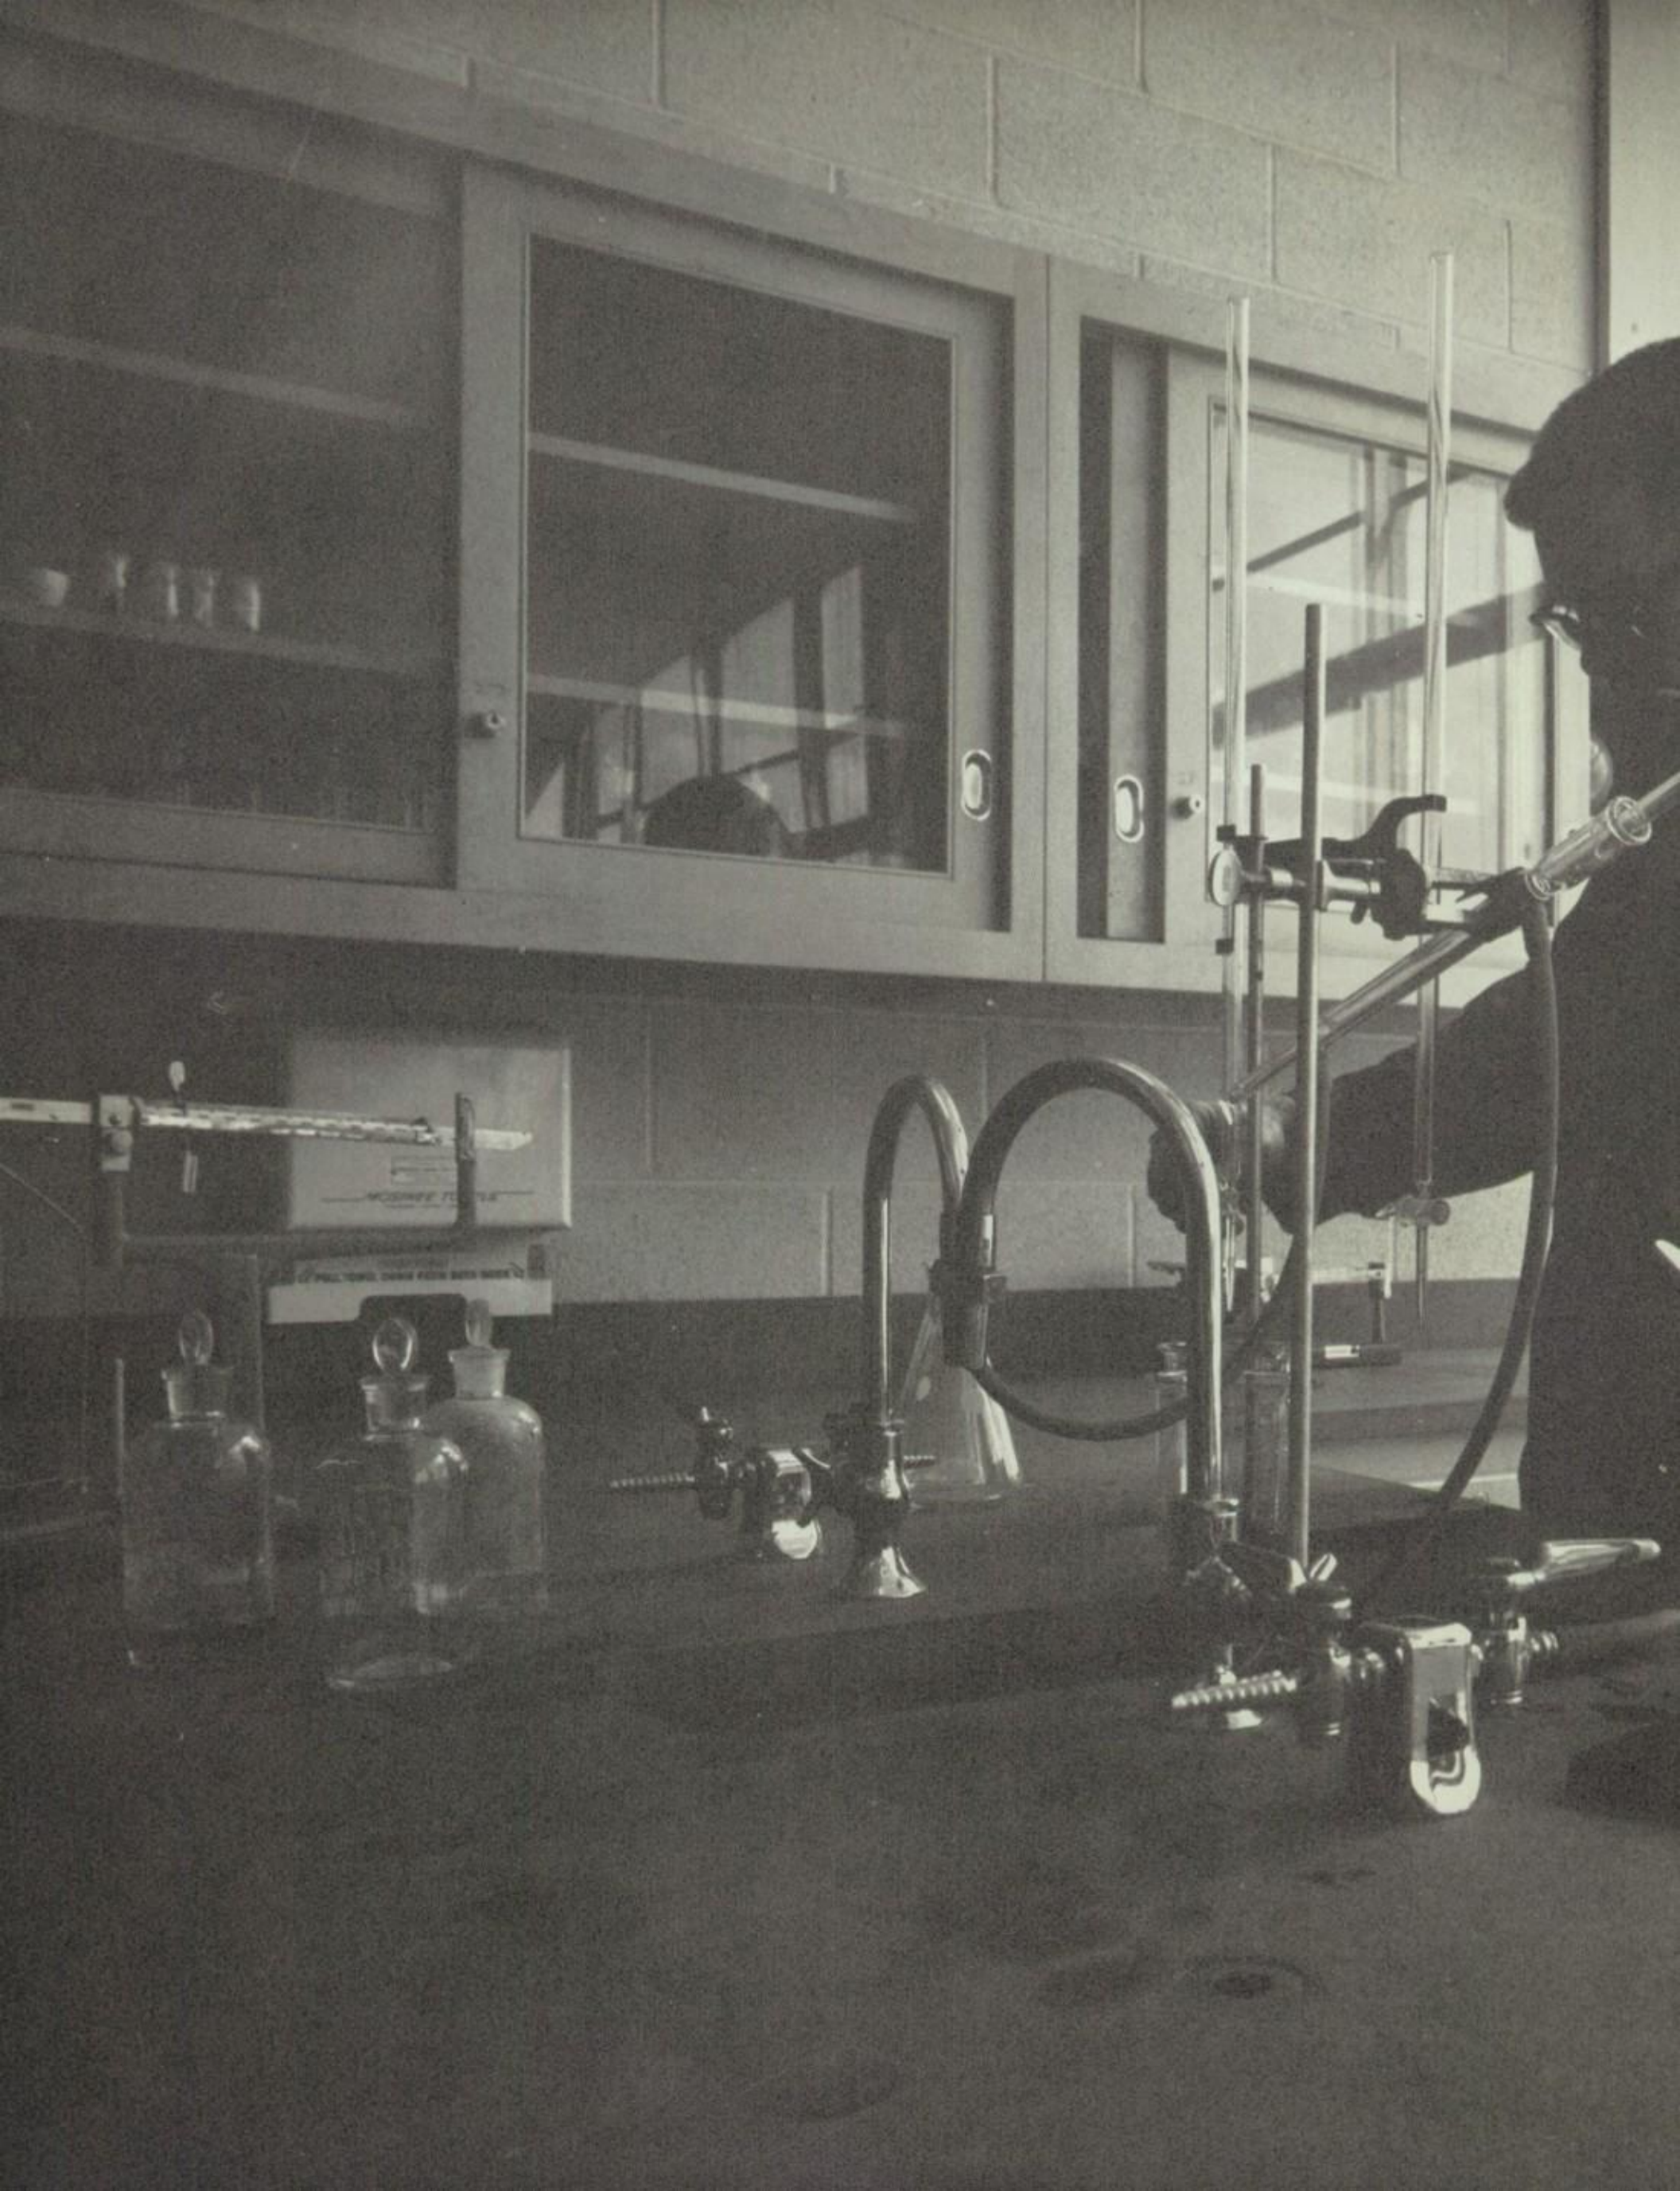

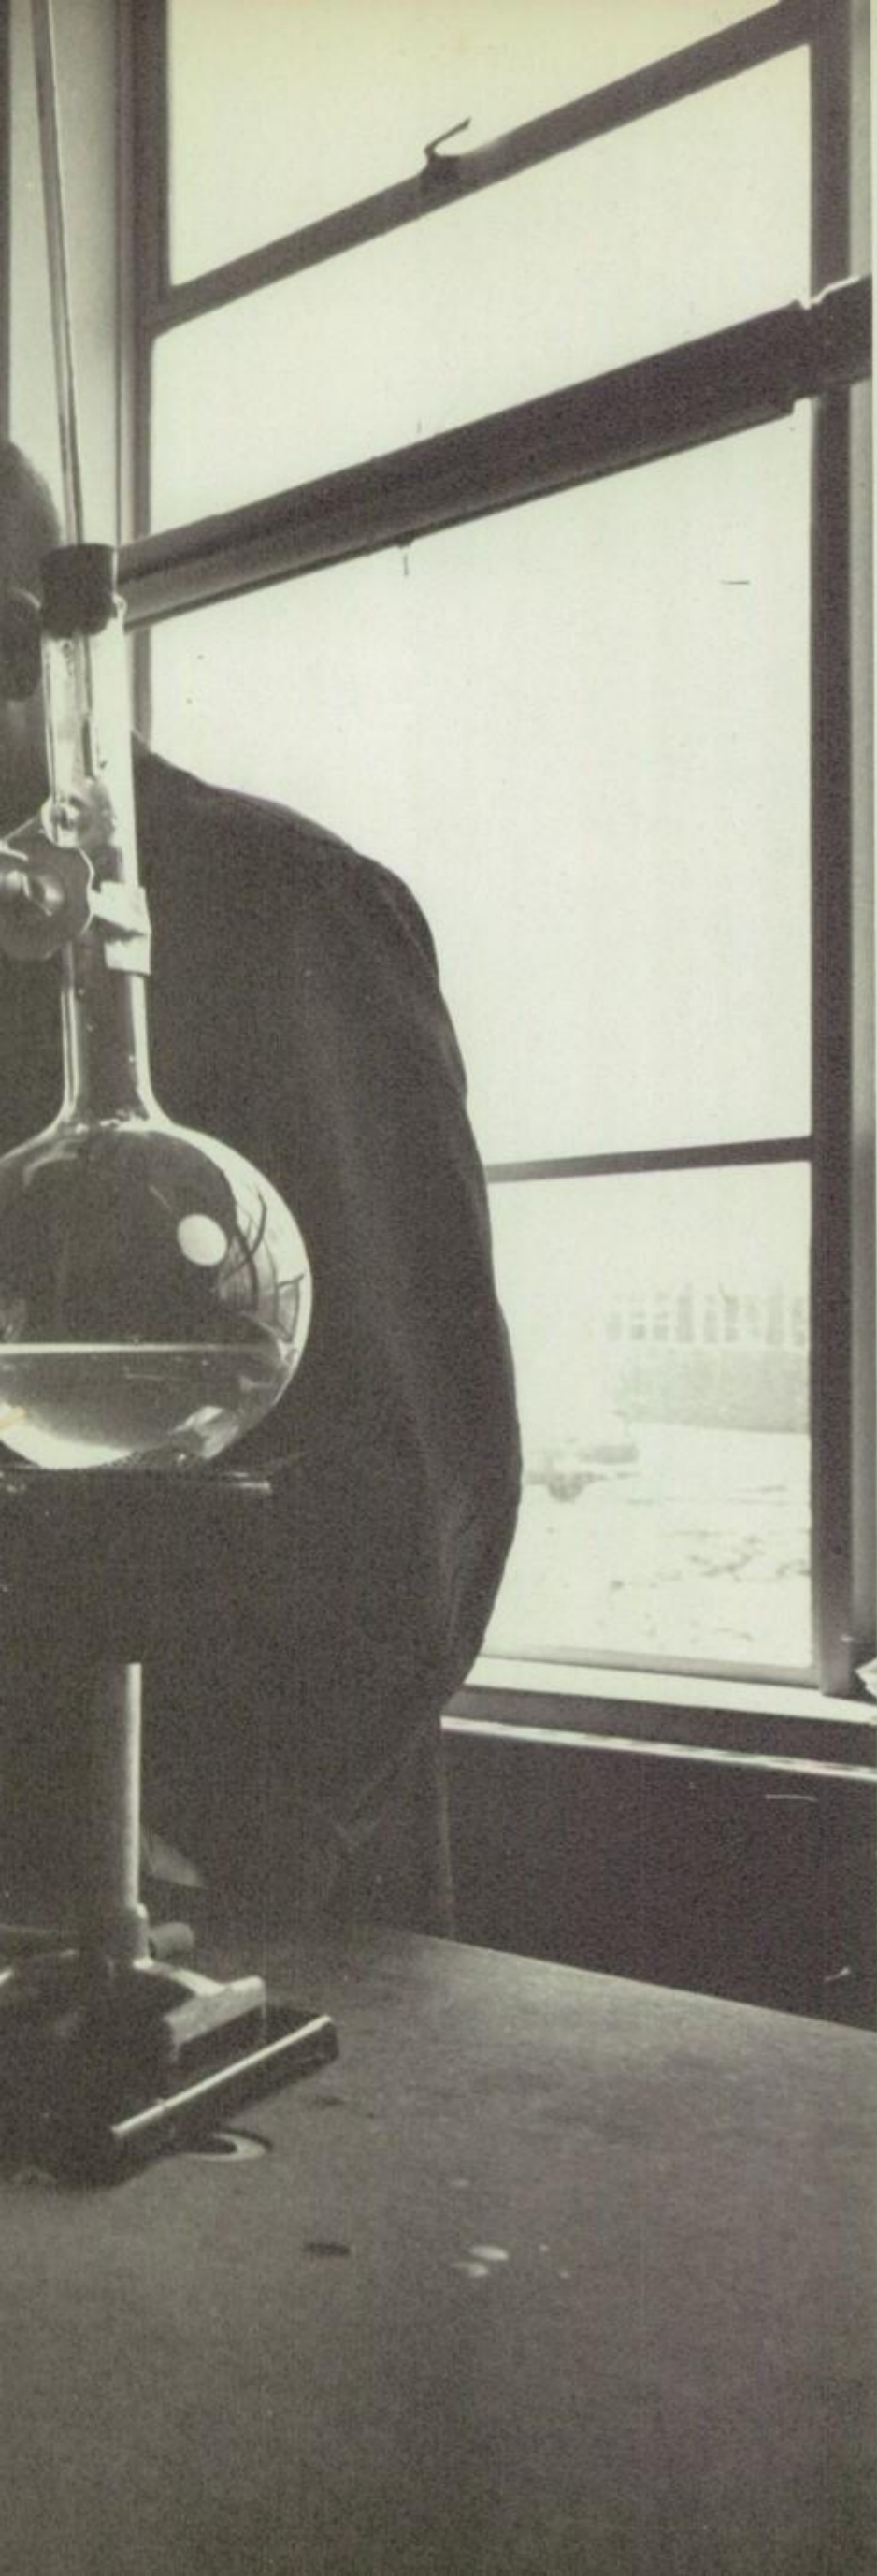

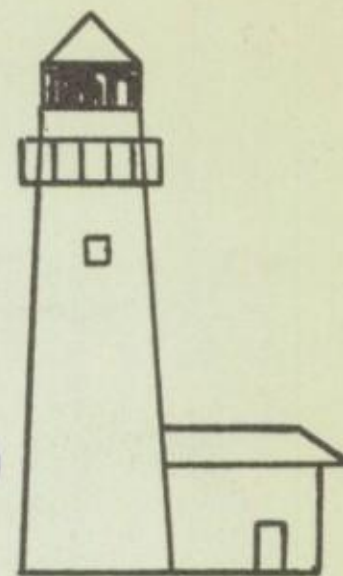

We, the yearbook staff, can look back over our short life in our beautiful building and see many similarities between it and a newly-launched ship, with everyone anxious to see whether it will sink or have a successful voyage. In each division we have illustrated a likeness by correlating the section with a nautical object. The way in which these various objects serve a ship resembles the relation of the function of the division to our school life.

There have been many phases of our journey from September to June. Walking to classes with old friends, getting acquainted with new teachers and classmates, cheering our teams to victory, and fighting the lunchline have all become a part of our life here, as have extra-curricular activities, crowded assemblies, and the between-class turmoil. The importance of all these things together, however, never surpasses our major purpose for being here—to learn. Through the year we have met many assignments that challenged our minds as we have sought to broaden our knowledge.

Good Luck

FACULTY

In many ways, our faculty serves to guide us. By preparing us for college, training us for careers, and encouraging us to strive for higher goals, they lead us into the future. An efficient staff of counselors and teachers provides us with the extensive education we will need in the world of tomorrow. They are always on hand to alert us when we are inclined to stray from our course and never fail to pat us on the back when we have triumphantly weathered a storm.

Leading the Development of our Youth

MR. JAMES S. FRY, Principal

MR. GEORGE R. MADDEN, Assistant Principal

Meeting the Responsibilities of a School Board

MR. WILLIAM SHUNCK, Superintendent

DR. CHANDOS REID

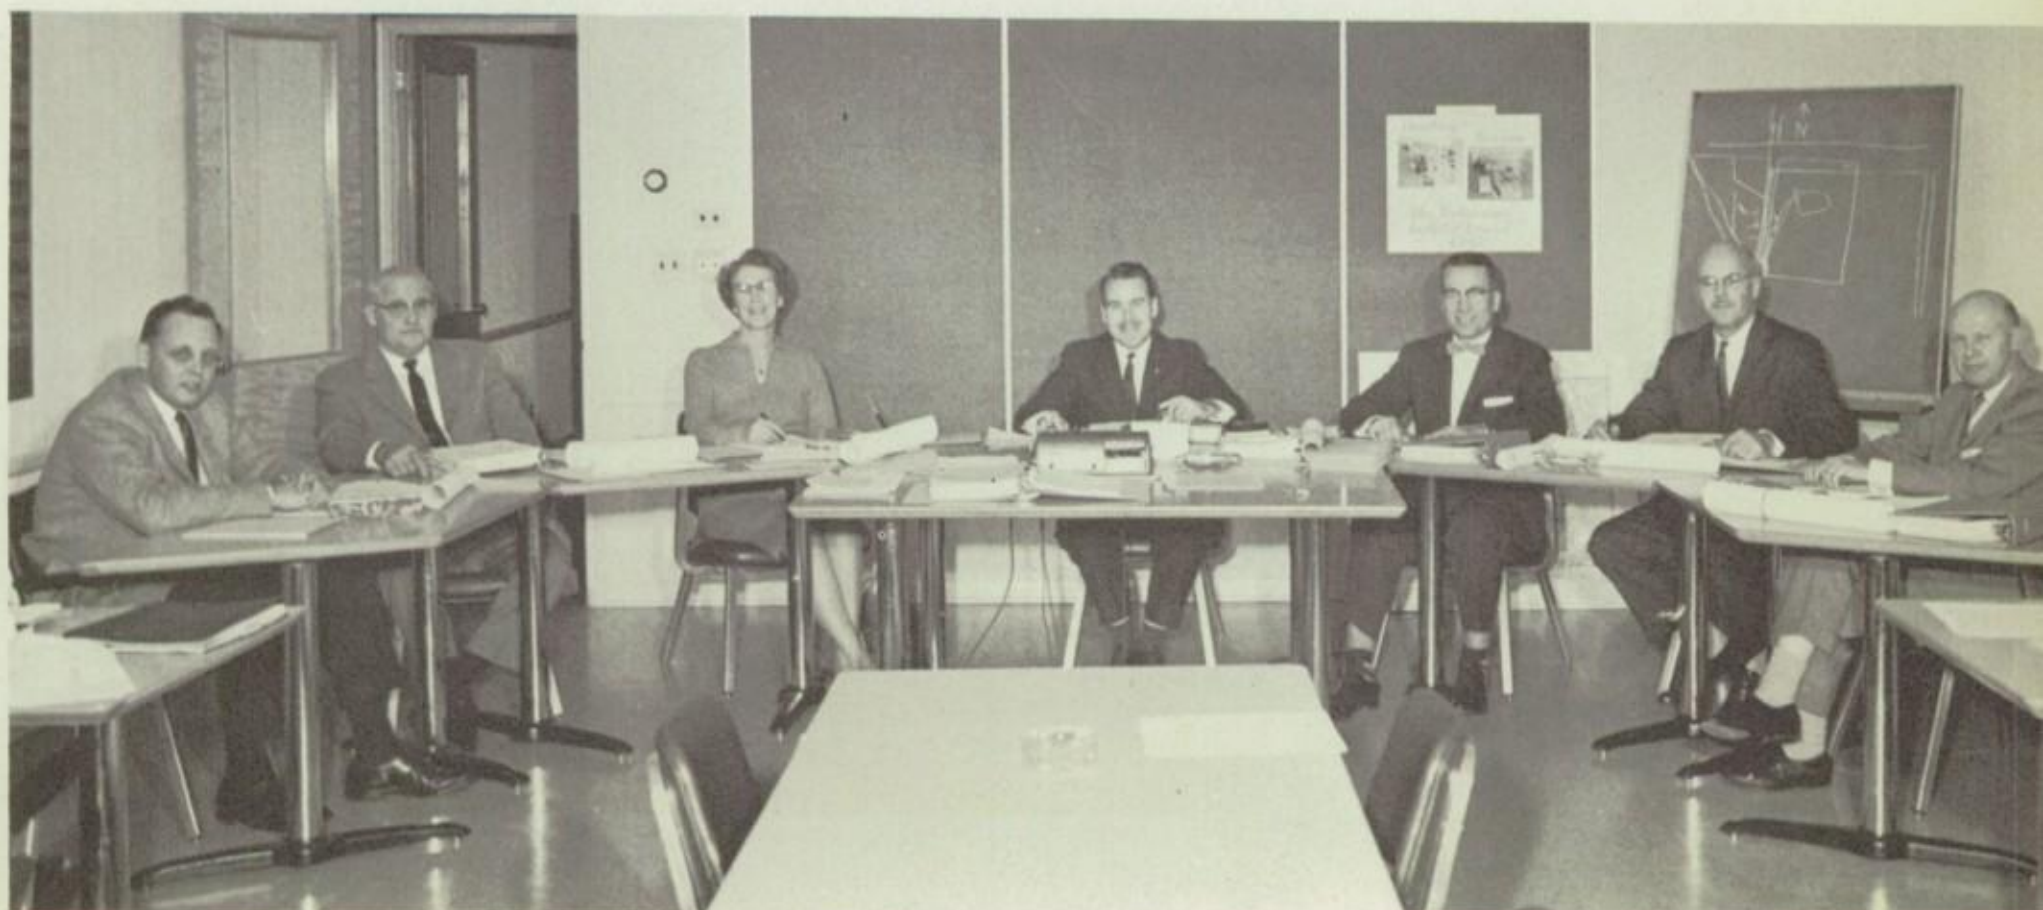

DR. EDGAR G. JOHNSTON

MR. JAMES DENHERDER

Mr. Frederick J. Poole, Mr. John D. Boardman, Mrs. Dorothy Barningham, Mr. Eldon Rosegart, Mr. Robert E. Field, Mr. Edmond L. Windeler, Mr. Duane M. Lemaux

MRS. LOIS CATRON, office secretary, writes out a memorandum to place in a teacher's mailbox.

MRS. MARY K. OAKES greets the inquiring visitors of the day with a cheerful smile.

Completing Their Clerical Duties Efficiently

Working with the attendance records, MRS. OLIVE SPIESS completes various tasks.

To help a student in his studies, MRS. BERTHA BRYCE locates a specific textbook.

Explaining the request slip procedure to Janet McDonald is MISS AUDREY FAULMAN, records secretary.

Pausing during her busy workday is MRS. SUZANNE BABER, counselor.

Giving advice to students is only one duty MR. GERALD WALLACE fulfills as a school counselor.

Assisting Students Who Seek Advice

Because the counselors believe it is the environment that gives the most encouragement to educational achievement, the Counseling Department enthusiastically attempts to foster a good mental health program, provide information which will enable the individual student to make educational and occupational decisions, and willingly assist the student in achieving the maximum in personal, social, and academic growth.

MRS. MARY MCGINLEY points to items pertaining to fundamentals of guidance.

Phoning for information is MRS. LELA LONG, counselor.

Dissolving Communication Barriers

MRS. PATRICIA CLARK explains the use of a tape recorder to English students Jim Nyberg and Vicki Herold.

Faculty members of the English Department combine their efforts to achieve the basic aim of the English curriculum, which is to help the student develop to the maximum his ability in reading, writing, speaking, and listening. Among others, these skills include becoming aware of the significance of language and one's responsibility in using it.

Bob Wheeler and Sandy Fauble get friendly assistance from MRS. MARY APERAUCH, their English teacher.

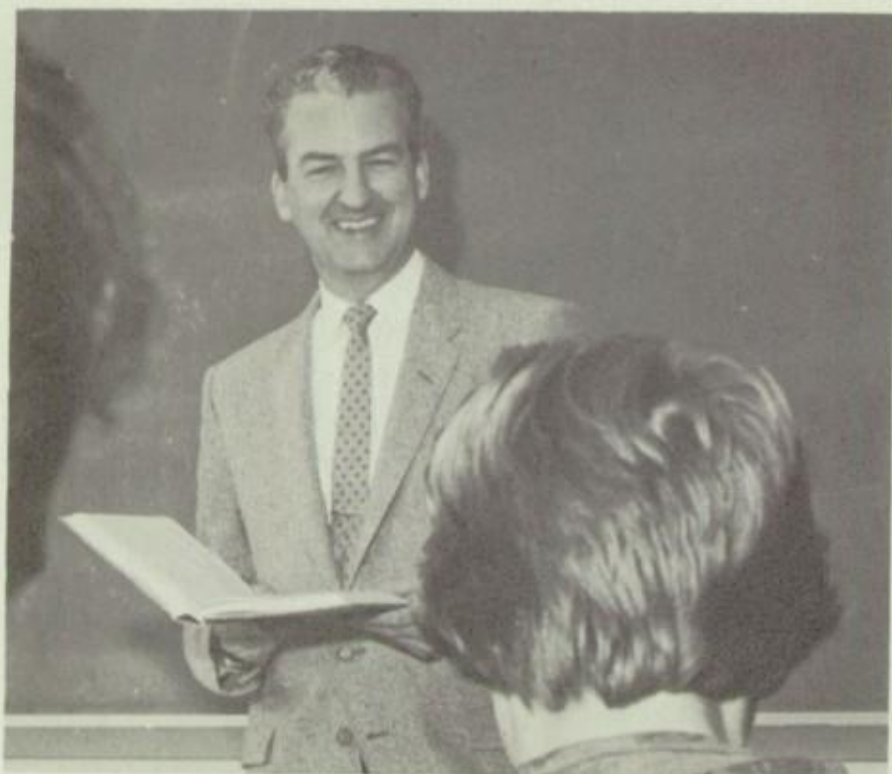

MRS. BEULAH SMITH and Virginia Fry display Virginia's scroll during the Christmas season.

MR. ROBERT KAMINSKIS pauses from his reading to explain a technical point of grammar to his English class.

of the Spoken and Written Word

Smiling, MR. HOWARD BENNETTS reads a selection from a literature book to his English class.

MR. DUWARD CHAFFEE assists Peggy Turner and Mike Hammond in the presentation of OUR TOWN in English class.

MISS JANICE MILLER points out to Clark Hobby and Brad Gibson the current bulletin board display.

MISS RUTH CHAMBERLIN, senior English teacher, suggests a novel to Richard Arnold and Gail Girard for book reviews.

A formula is explained in Chemistry class by MR. ROGER JOHNSON to Pat Campbell and another student.

Science instructors lecture in the field which opens the door to the future as well as the window that views the past. Laws and principles in the physical and natural sciences are introduced so that they may be applied in any area of interest that appeals to the student. Science is the connecting factor between the abstract world of philosophy, mathematics, and the concrete world in which we live.

Several white mice are analyzed in Biology class by MR. DALE FUSSMAN to Deanna Oesch and Brian Dorman.

Working for Progress Household Phases

Sharon Doimer, Rick Brown, Jerry Boeneman, and Jeannette Chartier help MR. CECIL MYERS unpack some new science equipment.

Nancy Keresey and Joette Fischer observe MISS NANCY RAKER, home making teacher, as she experiments with the new ovens.

in the Scientific and of the Future

MISS DELORES LARSON, homemaking teacher, checks Joanna Baldwin's garment for accuracy as Delores Campbell watches.

Home economics prepares the home-makers of the future in making the best use of their time, energy, and materials. Students of home economics are better informed in the fields of foods, clothing, home management, child care, home nursing, first aid, and home decorating and furnishings.

While forming profitable habits, the girls strive for perfection in their projects as they keep up to date with our changing world.

MR. JOHN COLEMAN and student Sally Hickman check the daily newspaper for stock reports in American government class.

MR. DAVID BRISTON, social studies teacher, helps Mike Klingensmith and Sharon Spurlock locate some of the world's trouble spots.

Mock wedding vows are being exchanged by Stanley Smith and Sharon Martin in MR. LOUIS CHRISTENSEN'S home and family living class.

A copy of "Every Week" is reviewed by John Stoppert, MR. JAMES FERRO and Nancy Ray during a social studies.

Covering World Affairs —

MR. FRANK GARLAND prepares a screen for a movie before his students arrive for a geography class.

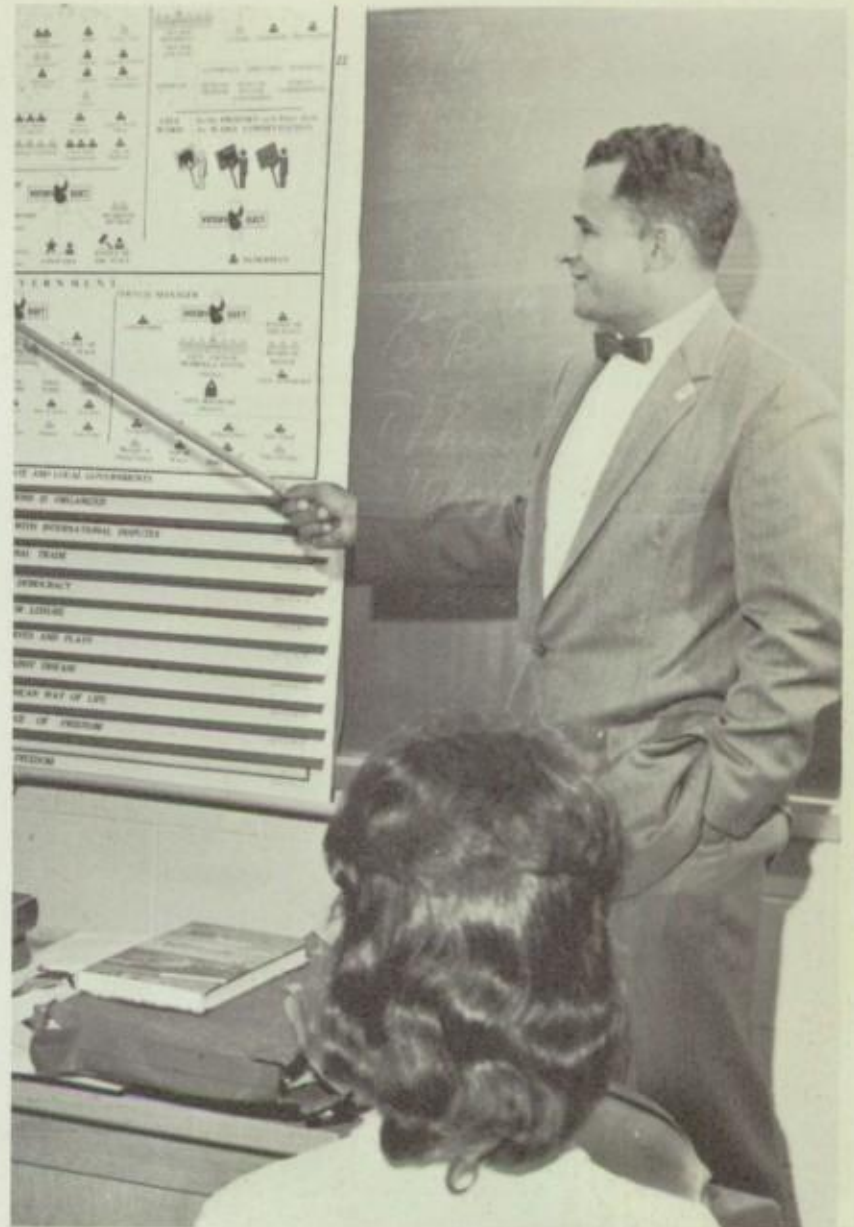

Pondering current events with MR. HAROLD HEMMING in ancient history class are Dennis Przedmojski and Judy Jones.

MR. JAMES LARKIN points out a picture of a rocket to Karen Rehbine, Joe Duran, and Mike Shipman during a discussion of missile advancement.

Past, Present and Future

Social studies instructors seek to equip students with the historical, economical, political, and social skills necessary to function as free citizens in a free society. With attitudes reflecting tolerance, appreciation, and integrity stressed in the subject matter material, the Social Studies Department creates an awareness that only through responsible, enlightened citizenship can our economic and political freedoms be preserved.

MR. EARL OXENDINE, social studies teacher, explains government structures to his class.

MR. ROBERT SMITH points out the route of an explorer to Bente Vollquart and Roger Blain in American history class.

MRS. MAUREEN LOSH, business instructor, assists Ray Steehler as he acquaints himself with a shorthand brief form.

Advancing Commercially

Objectives of the Business Education Department include helping to educate students to be intelligent consumers of the services of business and giving them a clear understanding of our nation's economy. With character training being an important aspect of business education, this department provides training in specific job skills and the ability to use these skills in the environment of business.

Mary Simmons, Francis Young, and Cheryl Hillman look on as MR. ERNEST SHEGINA demonstrates how multiplication is performed on the Friden calculator.

MR. JAMES TOLFA watches his stopwatch during a timed writing in one of his typing classes.

As David Downing and Pat Harkey discuss a check to be written in general business class, MR. RICHARD SHUPE, instructor, points out a common mistake.

Financial statements are explained to Francis Whitaker and Lottie Holcomb by MR. LYNN ROHRER as members of his business class look on.

Business education is the topic of discussion as MR. JOSEPH DUBY makes clear an assignment to Jackie Virgin and Leigh Guerin.

MR. RONALD KOSKI of the Business Education Department explains a homework assignment to Diane Bradford.

Music instructor, MR. DONALD PERRIN, explains a difficult composition to Dave Allen.

One of the objects of the Music Department is to stress the mastery and appreciation of various styles in music to the students in instrumental and vocal groups. Performing for school events and special civic functions such as parades and dedications, they are encouraged to work as a uniform group in achieving desired results.

Developing Their Musical

Rehearsing for an assembly, MRS. JANICE HENDIN, vocal music instructor, accompanies Kathy Freeman, Lottie Holcomb, Gayle Russell, Rosemary Gardiner, George North, Mike Jones, Mike Pender, and Barry Blackstone.

Pointing out qualities of design in a color abstraction of nature to Neal Hamilton, Wayne Hull, Diana Sakofski, and Kathy Coleman is MR. ROBERT SEEBURGER, their art instructor.

and Artistic Skills

The Art Department strives to provide students with a varied program aimed toward the student interested in art as a career, as well as those who wish to add to their cultural growth and development.

The career-minded art student can graduate with a firm foundation in the elements of art, enabling him to continue building future knowledge.

It is the ultimate aim of the department to development independently thinking, problem-solving, creative individuals who can fulfill their roles as contributing members of our society.

MRS. LOIS PETY sketches a design while Carol White and Karol Larson watch.

MR. ROBERT BROWN points out the fundamentals of a problem to his math class.

Being Prepared For

MR. JAMES ROBINSON pauses in the hall after leaving Plane Geometry class.

Candy Windeler illustrates a trigonometry problem to the class as MR. RAYMOND DOEKSEN observes.

May your joys endure & your hopes be fulfilled.
Wm. Doeksen

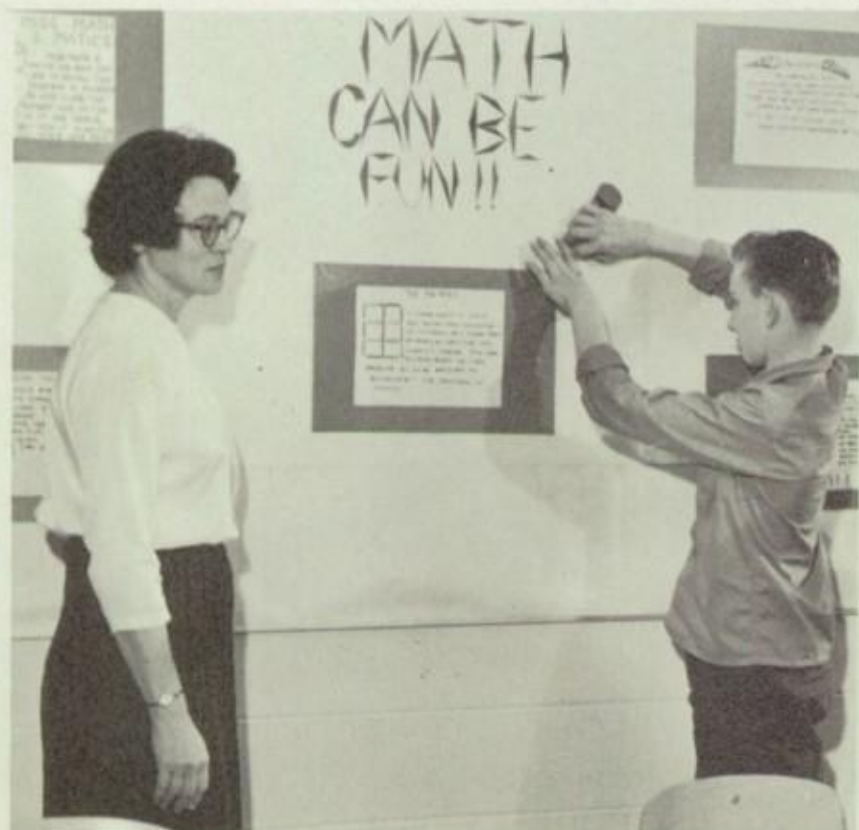

The desire of the Mathematics Department is to impart the essential skills necessary to meet the demands of the times and to prepare the individual with a more than adequate background in the fundamentals of mathematics.

For graduation all students must fulfill the requirement of at least one year in the field of mathematics. Students have an opportunity to further their abilities through the varied mathematics courses which are offered, including Business Arithmetic, Algebra I, Plane Geometry, Algebra II, Trigonometry, and Solid Geometry.

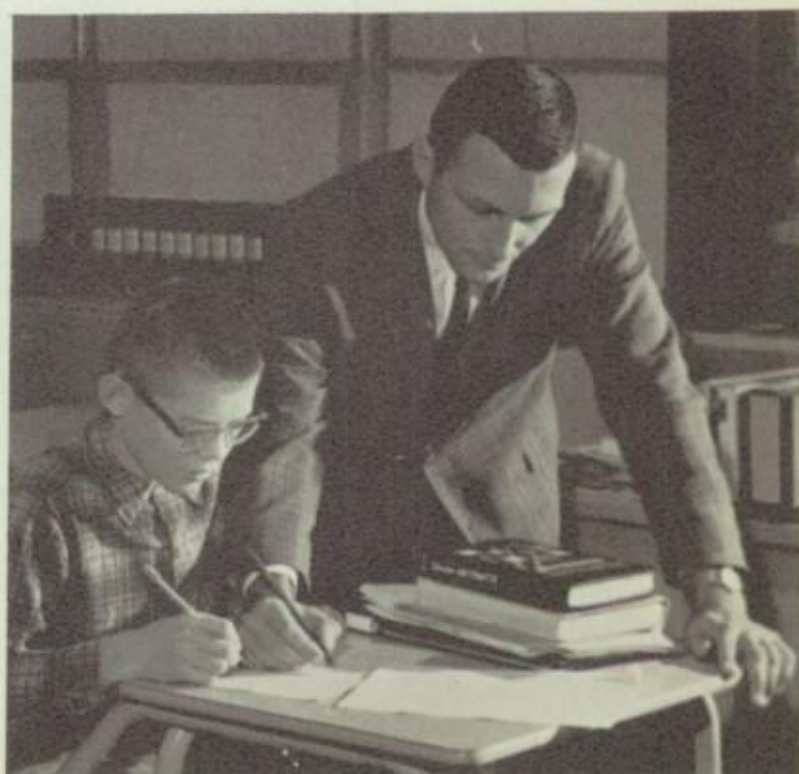

During his Algebra II class, MR. CHARLES WISEMAN explains an unusually difficult problem to Bob Beckman.

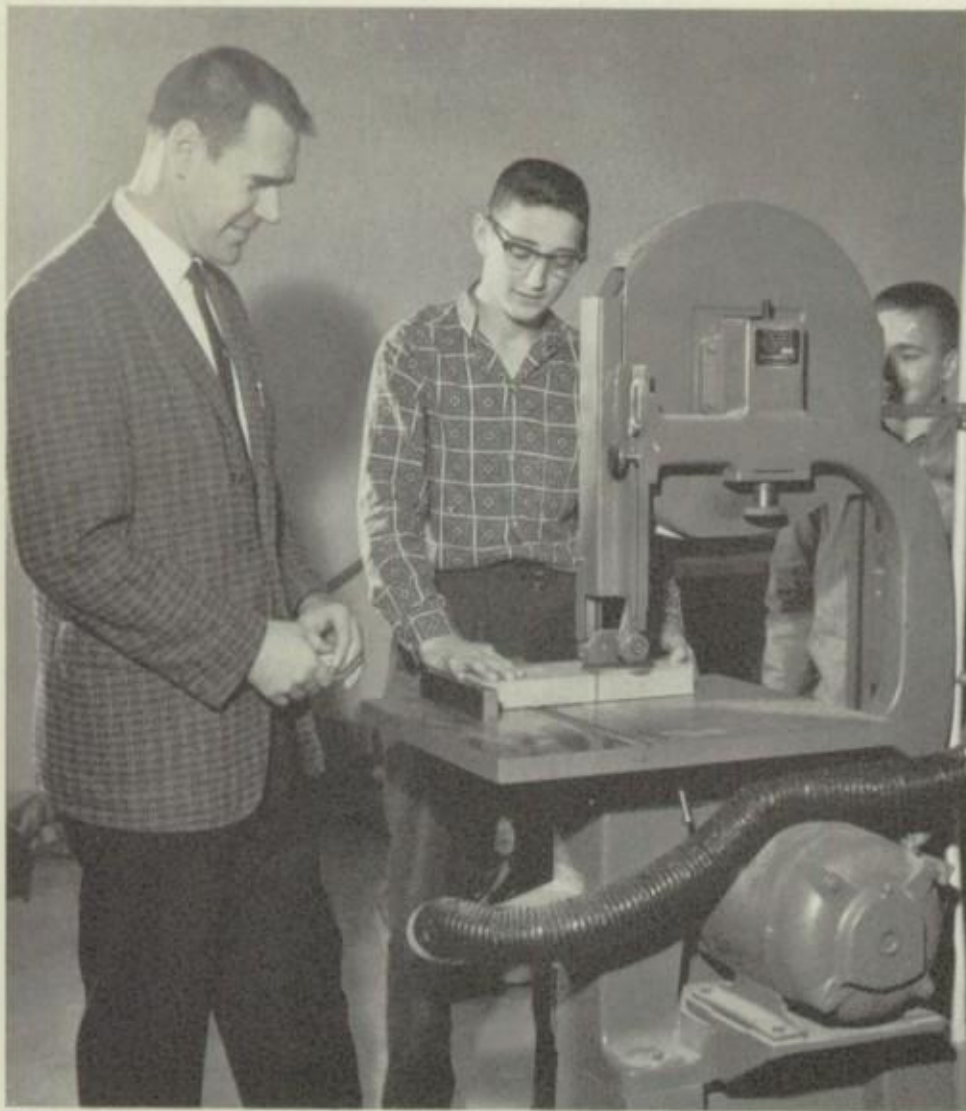

The Future—Mathematically

As Ron Buchanan prepares a bulletin board for math class, MISS ESTELLA MITCHELL makes a few suggestions.

Giving special aid to a student inquiring about the correct formula for solving a math problem is MR. IRVING THOMPSON.

MR. CHARLES GRIFFITH sees that the band saw in his woodshop is being used safely by Mike Wylie.

The recognition and application of safe working practices are highly stressed in the Industrial Arts Department. The instructors in this vast field place much importance on the student's maintaining a critical attitude toward his accomplishments and upon exercising a habit of analyzing and planning orderly performance on his projects. Throughout the Industrial Arts Department, students can gain knowledge of the tools employed and their uses in the many hobbies.

Training Hands for

MR. NATHAN ABTS, industrial arts instructor, explains the use of a compass to Gary Easley as Dick Ferrier watches.

Ron Lee cleans parts of an engine in auto shop while MR. CHARLES HENGEL checks over a piston.

Skillful Industry

MR. LYLE ANGER is about to show Jim Wilson the correct placement of the triangle on the T square.

MR. GERALD KOCH, industrial arts instructor, demonstrates to Anver Karen the use of the lathe.

Creating Self-Assured Speakers

MR. CARL LEEDY gives a student some speech pointers.

The Speech Department give students an opportunity to further their ability to speak in front of an audience and to carry on an interesting conversation with people from various walks of life. Speech is man's most useful and precious tool. For graduation one semester of speech is a requirement, but many students choose to major in this particular area.

Miss Patty Looman

Patty Looman has been pleased with your improvement in speech.

MR. CLARENCE FLEURY discusses the term assignment with Georgeanna Kruchko, John Peterson, and Paul Quarterman.

Speaking the Languages of Internationalism

Learning a new language means acquiring the skills of communication, listening, speaking, reading, and writing. One language narrows the range of the communication of man. Language links men to the persons and places where it is used; foreign language in the school links students internationally.

As a requirement for MRS. RUTH WORTHY'S foreign language class, students were instructed to submit projects.

Don Steehler and Jack Carlsen illustrate sketches to MR. RICHARD WYATT.

Demonstrating a pass to a ninth grade girl is MISS PATRICIA VANNORSDALL while the rest of her gym students observe.

As physical education teacher MISS JACQUELINE PUHL counts, Sue Johnson and Linda Mooney exercise with jumping jacks as Shirley Lyons rests in the background.

Exercising Muscles and Sportsmanship

The aim of the Physical Education Department is to provide a program that will aid the student in the greatest development of his physical, social, emotional, and intellectual capacities. Participation in a guided and selected group of physical activities is required for all freshmen, sophomores, and juniors. During these classes the students become acquainted with rules and terms pertaining to many athletics and develop a good sense of sportsmanship.

MR. JOHN MOFFAT, physical education teacher, supervises while boys practice the fundamentals of tumbling.

Efficiently Completing

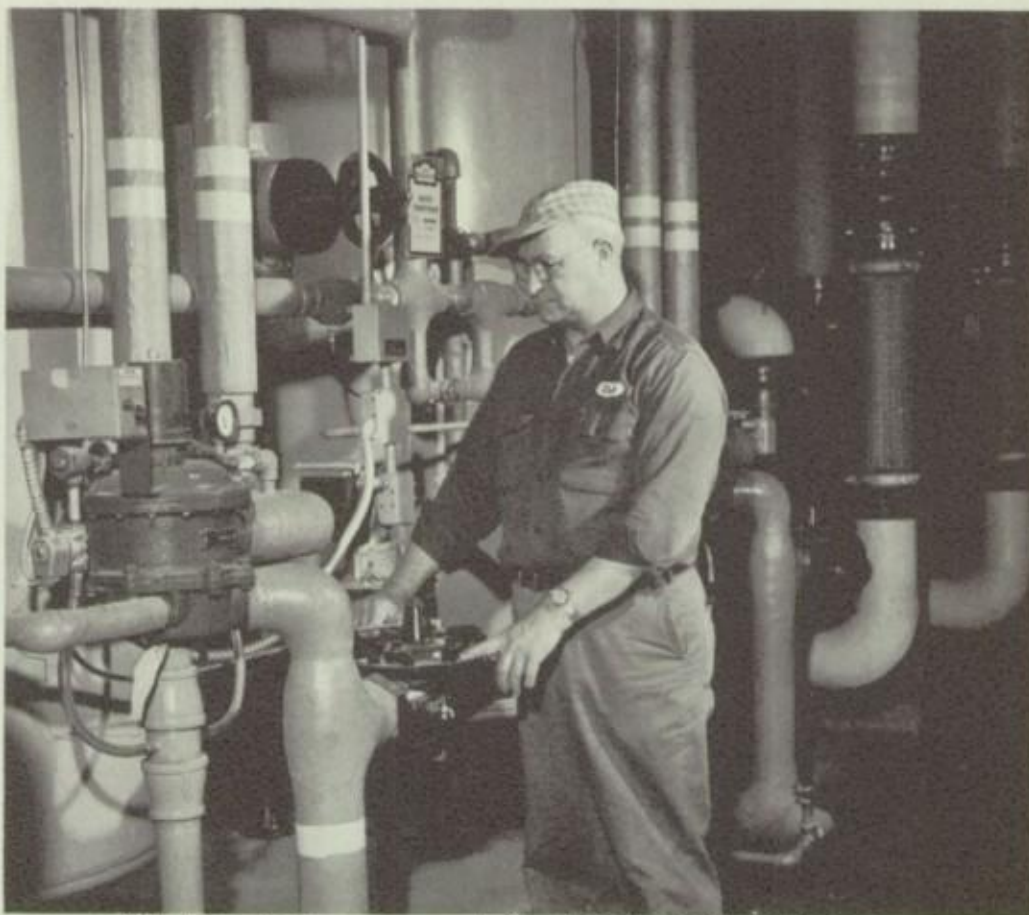

UNA CARLSON plans a balanced diet for over 1,000 lunches served daily in the cafeteria.

Preparing our daily meals are members of the cafeteria staff, Viola Coe, Virginia McDonald, Esther Johnson, Virginia Wagner, Olive Hibler, Virginia Paull, Amber Card, Hazel Milka, Ann McConnaughey, Mary Carlson, Barbara Allison, Martha Third, and Elaine Klender. Cakes for all occasions.

Their Daily Tasks

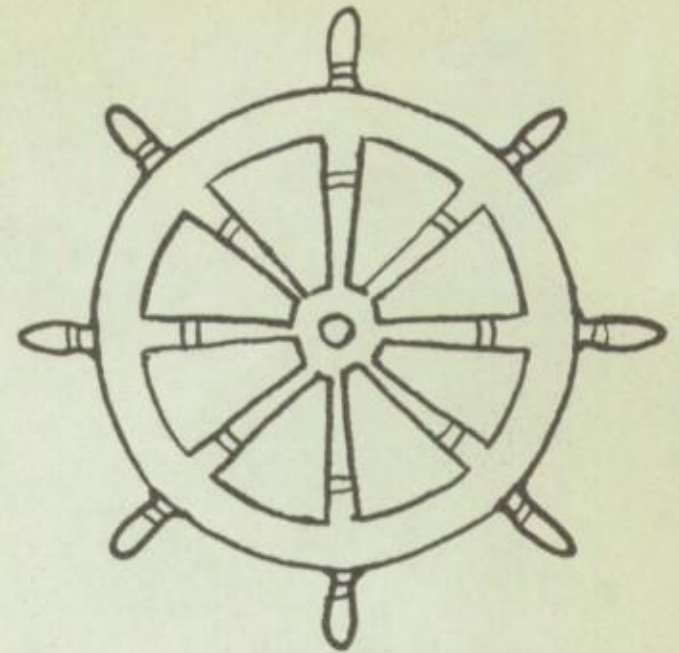

Checking the pressure on a boiler is MR. GLEN SUTTON.

Waterford-Kettering's competent maintenance staff includes Darwin Pratt, Bertrand Gorbett, Oscar Wilson, Charles Liskey, and Harold Farmilo. Kneeling are Jerry Copeman, Ira Wright, Raymond Sivets, and Rudolph Lisac.

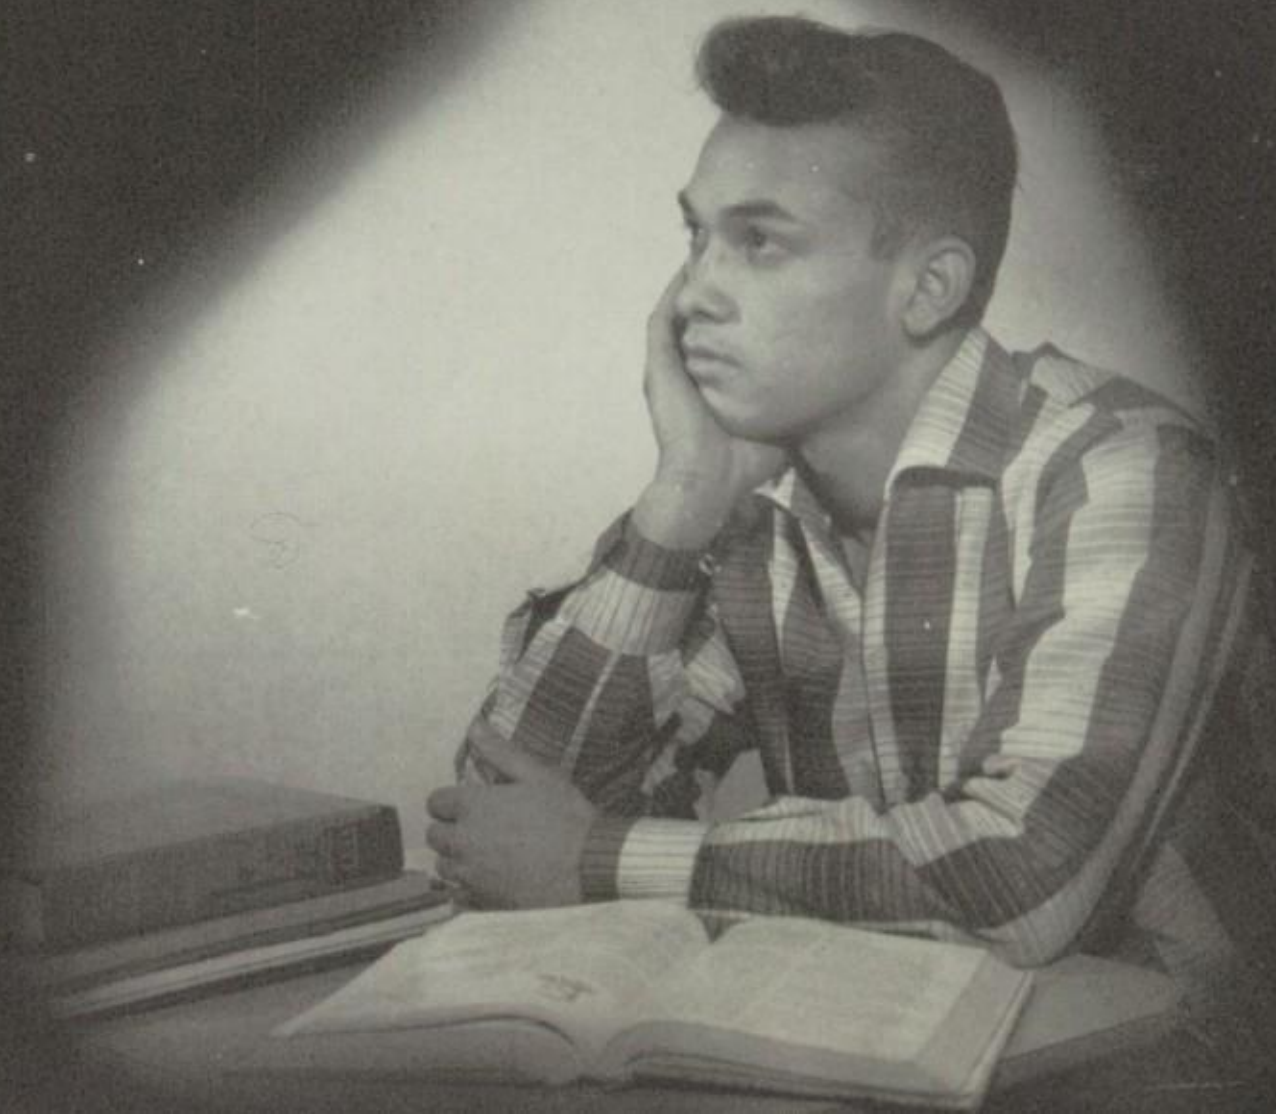

STUDENTS

There are many words that describe students — classmates, fans, members, and pupils. Here our democratic way of life allows each person to be a leader or follower as he prefers. Since the axis of our world at Waterford-Kettering is the student, each person plays a vital role in determining the course the school will take. Our goal in everything we do, whether academic, athletic, or social, is to reach the top. Attaining this goal is not as important as always striving for it.

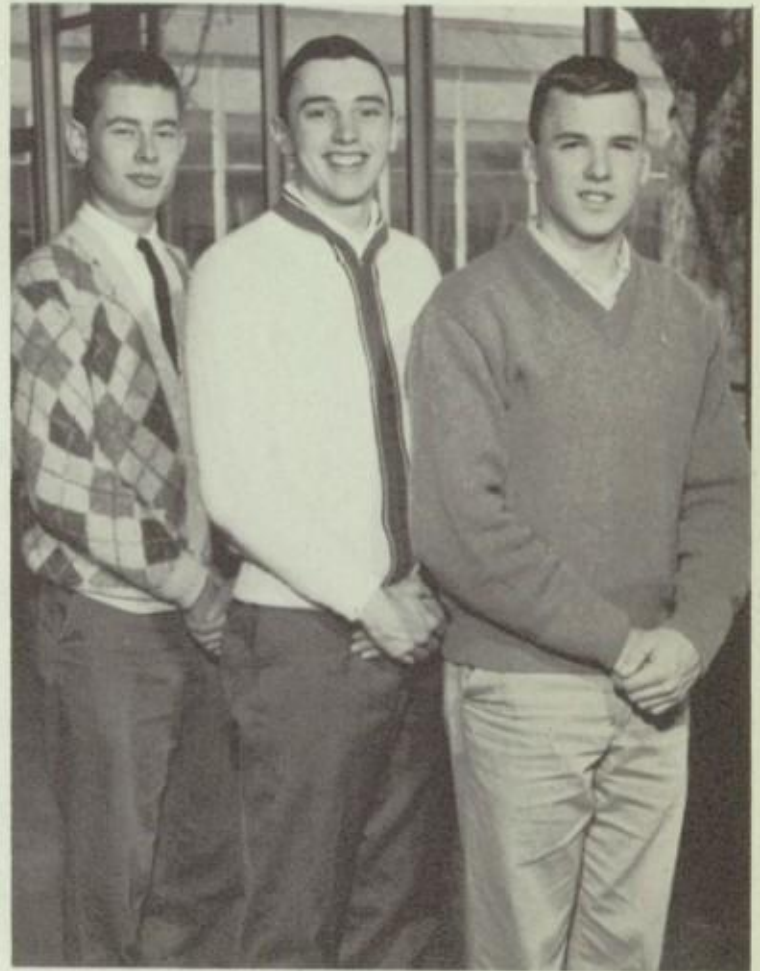

SENIORS

Old Friends Greet New School

In spite of being handicapped by a split class, the '62 graduates carried on with their senior activities. Working together enabled them to overcome many of the problems they faced as the first graduating class of Waterford-Kettering. The eagerly anticipated, never-forgotten year brought with it the glitter of the Christmas Dance "Snow Mist", the laughter and gaiety shared in the senior pep assembly, and the determination with which they sold candy. The superlative members of the group were singled out in the Senior Mock Elections. Many little things, such as senior announcements and pictures filled in the gaps between activities. Highlights of the year were the trip to Mackinac Island, the senior prom, and finally, graduation.

CLASS OFFICERS: Bob Allen, Treasurer; Doug Lyons, President; Rick Biggers, Vice President; Joyce Coats, Secretary (not pictured).

Top Two Lauded

Academic achievement is the major determinant in selecting the class Valedictorian and Salutatorian. Intelligence isn't the only key to this door, however. Keeping high standards and expressing a will to conquer worthy goals also aid the student in reaching this meridian of work. Effort and achievement must be harmoniously combined to produce quality work. For some, the effort may be minimum, but in any case the result must be maximum. The badge of prestige that these girls now wear is lasting merit in more ways than one, for their efforts have served to raise the quality of endeavor among their classmates.

Juniors Display Enthusiasm

By sponsoring a host of activities, the junior class proved successful in boosting school morale and establishing class unity. The underclassmen welcomed the new school year by sponsoring a record hop, "Autumn Leaves." Other junior activities that provided fun and frolicking for all were a pep assembly, Sadie Hawkins day, "Holiday in Dogpatch," and the Junior-Senior Event. Junior enthusiasm reached a climax when they received their beautiful new class rings. As the year came to its termination, the juniors settled down to more serious business. The National Merit Scholarship Tests and final exams were soon over and the Juniors immediately began to look forward to next year, when they will reign as Seniors.

Junior Dance Highlights Autumn

Mary Bone and Jim Velzy smile at the showcase as they remember the fun they had gathering the unusual decorations.

SOPHOMORES

Sophomores Adjust To New Life

CLASS OFFICERS: Fred Lobb, Vice-President; Janet Shipman, Secretary; Fred Olive, President; Diane Irish, Treasurer.

Although the sophomores were occupied in establishing a class treasury and in organizing class sponsored functions, they demonstrated that work can be accompanied by pleasure. Their eagerness to become a part of high school life led them to sponsor a dance and a pep assembly, but for the most part they enjoyed making new acquaintances and promoting school spirit. Eventually, as they started to dream of being juniors, they ordered their class rings and began the anxious wait.

Seasons Bring Mood Changes

As the temperatures rise and fall, similarly our interests mount and decline. Autumn expresses the uncertainty with which we face the beginning. It means new friends and new experiences. Gradually it all becomes routine, and we become more self-confident. Winter represents holiday cheer and frolicsome spirits. At last spring bursts forth, bringing with it less trifle matters. Final exams, term papers, and graduation indicate a termination of all of the things that affect the moods we have shared.

ORGANIZATIONS

By our system of clubs and organizations, students are offered many directions to take in the field of vocation as well as recreation. Ranging from the light-hearted activities of the Ski Club to the serious determination of the Student Council, our clubs strive to serve as many students as possible. Valuable experience is gained by working with others who share their interests.

Council Guides Students Toward Desired Goals

The 1961-62 session of the Student Council marked a year of notable achievement in student administration. From the hundreds of items listed on the agendas, many brought merited action.

Throughout the year, members worked diligently on such projects as a constitution, student handbooks, and recreation nights, which were organized for the benefit of the entire student body.

Members kept in mind their goals of assisting administration and faculty in solving problems involving the school and promoting school spirit and unity.

The Student Council has been under the direction of Mr. Bennetts and Mr. Christensen, sponsors.

Board members Doug Lyons, Doug Stranahan, Fred Olive, Claudia Wagner, Barb Smith, Pat Campbell, and Dick Laing attend to their respective duties as Tom McKinnon conducts the meeting.

KISMET Staff Illustrates Will to Work

Barb Secan, yearbook editor, pauses a moment to check the advertising price list with Joanna Lovett, business manager.

Mary Ann Blezinski points out to Wilma Harkey the order in which she would like her copy typed.

Amidst the confusion of trying to organize a new school, the Kismet staff toiled day after day piecing together pages which were soon to be known as Kettering's first yearbook.

Many problems arose but were solved by the alert and fast-acting staff and supervisors.

Perhaps the biggest problem of all, one of financing, was solved by selling advertising. These extra dollars provided sufficient funds to send the Kismet to press. Deadline accomplished.

Paul Garland, Kathy Shepherd, Janet Root, and Kristi Talbot decide what pictures are to be used in the book.

NAVIGATOR Links Present with Future

Keeping students well informed regarding school activities has been the job of the Navigator staff throughout the year.

Every opportunity of the newspaper business is open to members of the staff. They handle subscriptions, advertising, bookkeeping, photography, and press releases as well as write news stories, editorials and features.

All of the Journalism I students were asked to write stories and articles to fill the columns in the monthly issues. With the cooperation of all, the paper was always put to bed on time.

Shelia Paul and Janice Hadden, co-editors of the paper, clip articles to prepare the dummy.

Checking for errors on the dummy are Jack Teatro, Ray Hedding, Diana Dailey, and John Anderson.

Sheryl Lehigh, Pontiac Press school reporter, and Sue White, Lakeland Tribune reporter, check the calendar of events for future activities to include in their columns.

Ron Korthous aids Linda Lawrence in folding the first copy of the Navigator, as Linda Liimatta and Jeanne Chambers watch for helpful suggestions.

Scholars Given National Recognition

Students are elected to the National Honor Society on the basis of character, leadership, service, and scholarship. Students who are selected by the teachers of Waterford-Kettering must have a "B" average or better to be considered for the organization and meet the qualifications of the other categories.

Membership of the National Honor Society consists of about ten percent of the senior class and four percent of the junior class.

The faculty Advisory Committee, under the direction of Mr. James Fry, principal, is responsible for the organization of the society.

Students Explore Depths of Religion

Bible Club is an organization in which students of all religions may gather to discuss the history and literature of the Bible.

Other activities such as hymn sings, Scripture reading, and parties are participated in by all members of the club.

Waterford-Kettering's first Bible Club was sponsored by Mr. Wallace Alcorn and Miss Janice Miller.

Officers are Larry Bowker, president; Jim Taylor, vice president; and Martha Maule, secretary-treasurer.

Bible Club members Cheryl Portwood and Sue Bahrke pause for a moment to check their Bible before the meeting.

Book Reviews Given Monthly Promote Reading Interest

Jerry McNeive, Sandy Gutterman, Kirk Jacober, and Mary Ann Blezinski gave book review in front of the club.

Promoting greater interest in reading, sharing reading experiences, and adding to the library facilities whenever possible are three of the goals of the Literary Club.

Besides monthly meetings students, under the leadership of Miss Ruth Chamberlain and Mrs. Beulah Smith, traveled to Ann Arbor to the International Students World Fair. They also went to the Wayne State University Theater in Detroit.

Officers of the club are Dick Laing, president; Sandy Gutterman, vice-president; Judy Davis, secretary; Mary Ann Blezinski, treasurer; and Leonard McPherson, newsreporter.

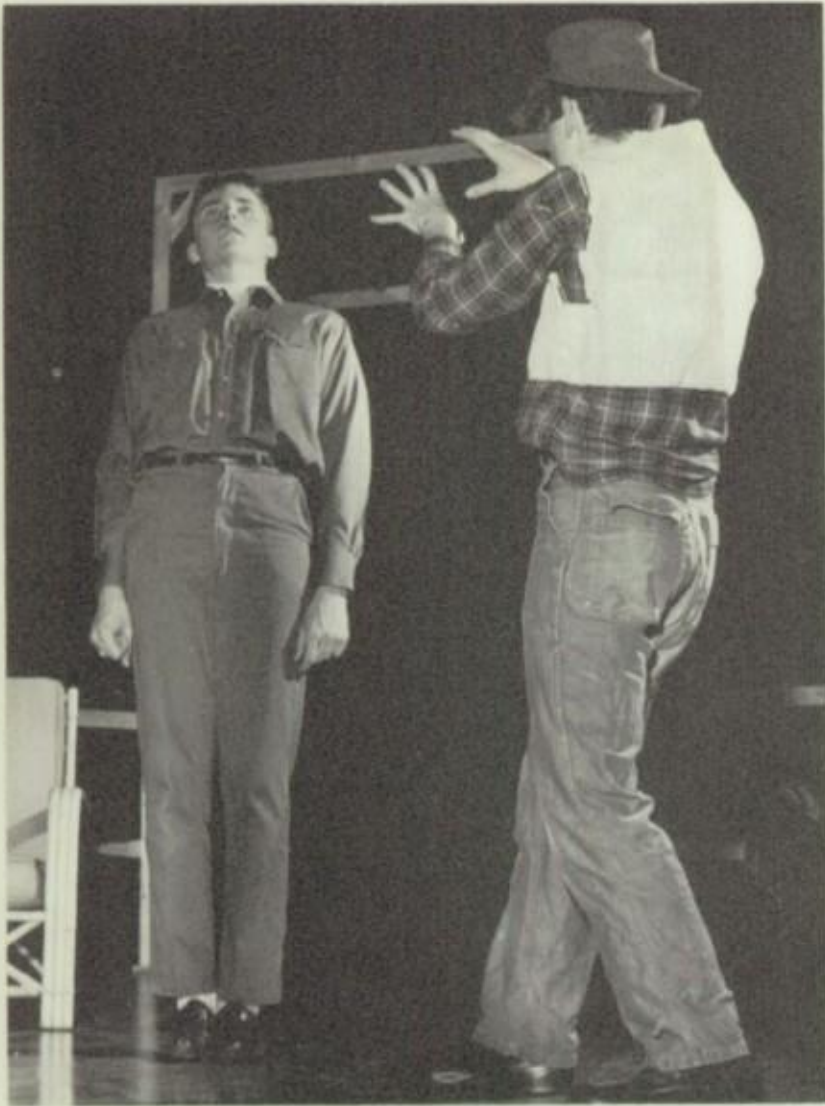

Members Judy Davis and Kay Campbell leave for the International Students World Fair.

Dick Laing, Joy McReynolds, and Judy Gutterman, look through books to decide which one they will report on next.

Acting Ability Used By

Roger Blain hypnotizes Jerry McNeive in a scene from "Girl Crazy."

Dramatics Club's purpose is to provide students with an opportunity to participate in every phase of amateur theatrics. "Girl Crazy" and "Green Valley" were produced by the club. The plays are presented for the entire community, and money made is used to put on the next play.

Under the supervision of Miss Patty Looman, the club has acquired about 70 members.

Officers of this club are John Anderson, president; Phil Doolittle, vice-president; Sue Jackson, secretary; Kirk Jacober, business manager; Jerry McNeive, treasurer; and Ray Steehler, historian.

Ray Steehler and Bea Bellairs act surprised at the expression of Roger Blain.

Students to Produce Plays

Judy Gould and Ray Steehler rehearse a scene for coming play.

Kirk Jacober, Sue Jackson, Marlene Colgrove, Bea Bellairs, Bill Aspenwall gather around Judy Gould and John Anderson.

Dramatists Gain Many Honors

Recognizing outstanding students in theater work is the purpose of Thespians. The membership is limited to students who have a minimum of 20 points and are considered good school citizens.

Members of Thespians belong to the National Honorary Organization and are entitled to wear the pins. Each member receives a year's subscription to "Dramatics Magazine," and a gold seal is placed upon their diploma upon graduation. Their very capable sponsor is Miss Patty Looman.

Members Interested in French Culture

The main purpose of the French Club is to promote interest in French culture. At meetings, examples of French civilization are shown and discussed.

Membership of the organization, sponsored by Mr. Clarence Fleury and Mr. Richard Wyatt, is open to anyone who has an interest in the French language and the French people.

Officers of the club are Jerry Johns, president; Dennis Forslund, vice-president; Kirk Jacober, secretary; and Ray Steehler, treasurer.

Romans Interest Members

The goal of the Latin Club is to learn more about the Latin language, the culture, and history of the Roman people.

Under the direction of Mrs. Ruth Worthy and Mrs. Mary McGinley, students try to understand more thoroughly the Roman civilization and the lessons it has for modern times.

Jeanne Chambers, Jean McGinley, Phil Doolittle and Connie Griesbach admire John Popovich's Latin project.

Debaters Have Successful Season

Debate is the one place where all participants argue in an organized manner.

Students on the squads travel to other schools in the area to debate in competition.

Under the direction of Miss Patty Looman, debaters gain information so they are able to debate either affirmative or negative.

Rick Biggers, Gene Gustafson, and Joan Frisch listen intently as Carl Methner presents the affirmative side of the case.

Students Help Keep Order

Mrs. Cronan, Librarian

Assistants Judy Baldwin, Mike Klingel-smith, Marlene Colgrove, and Mike Dorman check the new books which came into the library.

Assisting Mrs. Cronan, school librarian, are approximately 15 students who gave up their study halls to check in magazines, aid students in finding desired material, check in and out books, take care of the library bulletin boards, and keep the library in order.

Each of the students is a member of the Student Library Organization of Michigan, which is a county organization.

There's a Song in the Air

Members of the choir are: First Row: S. White, G. Daniels, S. Moon, K. Freeman, K. Ledger, M. Colgrove, J. Underwood, G. Russell, S. Guerin, L. Gaylock, A. Anderson; Second Row: J. Usinger, C. Hillman, S. Sovereign, G. Roberts, P. Hempton, G. Ledger, R. King, D. Stockwell, B. Wheeler, B. Spring, G. Mowhorter, C. Hobby, T. Craft, R. Gardiner, R. Serra, A. Groves, D. Irish; Third Row: K. Patton, J. McDonald, E. Johnson, D. Bader, C. Griffith, S. Walters, B. Blackstone, J. Backnak, J. Foster, M. Pender, M. Jones, G. North, G. Peel, M. Simmons, B. Wilson, L. Holcomb, B. Robertson, M. Roth, S. Maguire, K. Larson.

Diana Irish and Mark Byington sort through new music.

Diana Bader admires Gary Peel as he models one of the newly acquired robes.

And a Song in Their Hearts

There is truly a song in the hearts of the students who participate in the A Capella choir. These are the select students who are trained to sing in four part harmony without any instrumental accompaniment.

Winter and spring concerts were put on by the music departments this year. Although robes didn't arrive until late in the year, spirit was high among the group members as they practiced hourly each day.

Among the group were fourteen students who successfully tried out for the Madrigal ensemble and who practiced on their own time after school.

Mrs. Hendin helps Joan Underwood, Gary Ledger, and Sue Maguire with notes of a new song.

Combined Efforts Bring Music To

Mr. Perrin helps Fred Wallace and Bob Verhey with a few difficult notes of music.

An error is pointed out to Sally Drinkert and Mary Anderson by Mr. Perrin.

The Ears Of Waterford-Kettering Students

Under the capable leadership of Mr. Donald Perrin, the band and orchestra have done exceptionally well this past year.

Fruit cakes were sold by members of the band and orchestra in order to raise money to buy uniforms. The group, combined with the choir, presented a program around Christmas, which was well attended by people of the community.

In March they also presented a program of familiar folk song melodies.

Fellowship of Christian Girls Established Successfully

Y-teens was established to build a fellowship of girls devoted to the task of realizing, in everyday life, those ideals of personal and social living to which all Christians are committed.

Under the leadership of Miss Ruth Chamberlain and Mrs. Sue Baber, the girls observed World Fellowship Week and Brotherhood week. Members also participated in the hanging of the greens at Christmas at the Y.W.C.A., and presenting a needy family with food and gifts.

Officers of the club are Sharon Spurlock, president; Connie Tottingham, vice-president; Judy Madill, secretary; and Joanna Lovett, treasurer. Inter-Club Council Members are Sue White and Kay Campbell.

Good Christian Character Established Throughout Year

Larry Lazenby and Doug Stranahan joke with fellow-member Earl Nicholie.

Tom Bailey, Mark Pankner, and Jim Nicholie show treasurer John Putnam their empty wallets when he asks for their dues.

Creating, maintaining, and extending throughout the school, home, and community, high standards of Christian character is the main purpose of Hi-Y.

Activities such as a bike rodeo, car wash, Easter assembly, and banquet were sponsored by the boys under the supervision of Mr. Lynn Rohrer and Mr. Shoup.

Officers of the club are Earl Nicholie, president; Larry Lazenby, vice-president; Howard Bertram, secretary; John Putnam, treasurer; and Chuck Bailey, chaplain.

G.A.A. Promotes Good

Lynne Johnston winds up for the baseball game she's pitching for.

Charlene Griffith practices catching a hard ball.

Pat Kizer and Joannna Lovett start a game of field hockey with a bully.

Sue Windeler anticipates two points as the ball heads for the basket.

Sportsmanship in Girls

A game of soccer occupies the attention of a group of G.A.A. girls.

Under the guidance of Miss Raker, Miss Puhl, and Miss Miller, the Girl's Athletic Association strives to promote good sportsmanship among its 100 members and to help them understand the sports in which they participate.

Director, Candy Windeler instructs the freshmen, sophomores, juniors, and seniors in playing such games as basketball, volley ball, and baseball. The girls meet once a week to participate in these sports.

Girls relax before starting a game of basketball to review a few rules.

Volleyball keeps these sportsminded girls in shape.

Girls Strive to Earn Points

G.A.A. Letter Club is made up almost entirely of juniors and seniors since the only girls eligible are those who have been in G.A.A. long enough to receive the required 100 points. These points may be earned by regular attendance at meetings and participation in the sports.

Through the direction of Miss Puhl, physical education instructor, the club organizes such activities as Mom's Nite, Pop's Nite, Faculty Game, and Underprivileged Children's Day.

Sue Smith, president; Pat Kizer, secretary; and Connie Shell, treasurer, see that this is one of the most active clubs in the school.

Ron Allan and Jim Lloyd try for a strike.

Creating good sportsmanship is the main purpose of the Boys' Bowling Club. Members and sponsors, Mr. Frank Garland and Mr. Charles Hengel, also try to develop skills which boys may carry with them in adult competition.

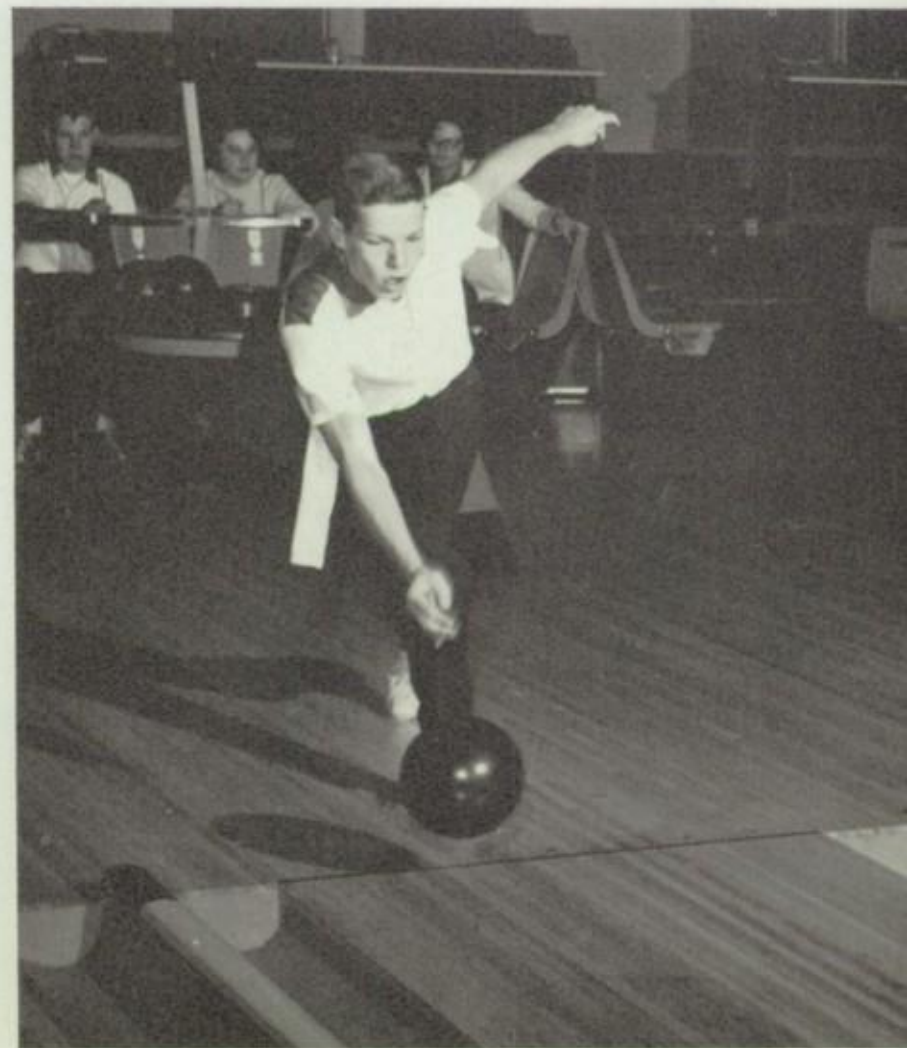

Membership is open to any boy enrolled at W-KHS who is not bowling in an adult league. At present, membership numbers about 30.

Boys bowl once a week, also at the "300 Bowl". In the spring, a banquet is held.

Officers of the club are Dennis Przedmojski, secretary; and Ray McAllister, treasurer.

Students Are Teachers Aids

A tremendous aid to the teachers are the students in audio visual.

The purpose of the audio visual program is to develop skills and knowledge necessary to run equipment such as projectors and phonographs used as classroom aids. They also learn how to do minor repair work on the equipment.

Any student interested in this type of work is invited to join.

Darwin Pace and Chuck Walters put new film in machine.

Students Aid In Keeping Order

The job of the hall monitor is to aid students when needed, check passes, and the help the people in the counseling area. Mr. Nathan Abts is in charge of this service and he personally picks the students who will be aides.

Students are excused from study halls to perform this service.

Hall monitors Jerry Johns and Sharon Spurlock check the pass of Judy Runyon.

Students Learn By On-The-Job Training

This club is open to seniors only who have chosen to work for part of the school day. Mr. Ronald Koski, sponsor, finds openings for the students, and they apply for the jobs. Their main goal is to develop a better understanding of the on-the-job training program.

In the spring there is always a banquet to which each student brings his employer.

Fran Whitaker sells Sally Hickman paperbacks as part of her job at the bookstore.

Experiences Create Careers

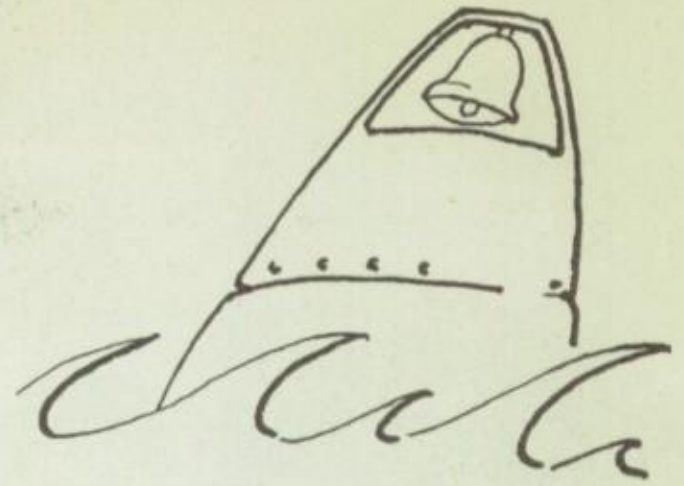

Chuck Henderson, Mike Gormley, Jerry Goff and Dick Shipman leave to do their student teaching.

Giving high school students an interest and insight in the profession of education is the purpose of the Future Teachers Club.

Students, under the direction of Mr. Wallace and Mr. Kaminskis, observe teaching at all levels. When members become seniors, they are given an opportunity to practice-teach in junior highs and grade schools.

Sandy Gutterman is chairman of the club, while Cheryl Wallis is secretary-treasurer.

SPORTS

Although they are in no way a part of our curriculum, athletic events are rightly considered a major part of school life. It would be hard to imagine a year passing without freezing our toes at a football game or cheering in a crowded gym. Sports are a form of recreation, not only for the participants but the spectators as well. We buoy our teams by sustained spirit in times of defeat as well as victory.

Cheerleaders Needed to Channel Student Enthusiasm

Cheerleaders are needed to channel enthusiasm in the right way at the right time. They support school spirit and encourage our teams by spirited expressions in victory or defeat.

Varsity cheerleaders spent time in the summer creating new cheers in order to make Waterford-Kettering's first cheerleading squad successful. The energetic team led the student body for the first time at the outdoor pep assembly for Waterford-Kettering's first football game.

Sponsors have contributed much time and effort to the cheerleaders. Miss Puhl has carefully guided the varsity group throughout the year. Junior Varsity girls were sponsored by Mrs. Losh, and the Little Captains were directed by Mrs. Clark.

Two-Miler Breaks Record

Kettering's cross country Captains ran a spirited season under the encouragement of Roger Johnson, coach, and Jerry Boeneman, captain. John Popovich and Jerry Koch consistently led the way throughout the season helping to keep Kettering's score low enough either to win or to make a good showing. John Popovich set a school and course record at Utica High School when he ran their two mile course in 10:48.9. Although the team suffered six setbacks in eight starts, spirit was high, and strength increased as the season progressed with both victories coming late in the schedule.

Coach Roger Johnson clocks Jerry Koch's finish during a meet with Waterford-Township.

Waterford-Kettering's 1961 Varsity football season was highlighted this year by the Waterford-Kettering—Waterford Township clash. In their first conflict, Waterford-Kettering set Waterford Township into a 13-12 defeat. This accomplishment was rewarded by the presentation of the Naval Reserve exchange trophy to Waterford-Kettering. Donated by the local Naval Reserve, the trophy will be awarded to the winning team each year.

JV's Reign as Co-Champs

Kettering junior varsity eleven opened its football history in Tri-County competition sharing the co-championship with Lapeer. With a 3-win, 4-loss record, the overall season ran about average; but when it came to paydirt, the squad came through with green and white gleaming. Spurred on by Don Carter and Philip Ragatz, co-captains, the team dropped Rochester, Romeo, and L'Anse Creuse into defeat to achieve its Tri-County goal.

Freshman Squad Joins Ranks

In its first year of high school competition, the Kettering freshman football squad ended its season with a five loss and one tie record. Losing games to schools in the surrounding area did not discourage co-captains Don Grey and Jim Haviland. The squad returned at season's end to hold powerful Waterford to a scoreless duel.

Cagers Gain Experience

Waterford-Kettering's Varsity Cagers set out to play basketball and did. Despite a mediocre 6-9 record, the squad really enjoyed the season and gained some valuable experience.

Three all-county team men were produced from the ranks, although the team record was not exceptional. Dick Shipman, with a 12.5 point average, made first team, with Mike Gormley, with a 7.0 average, and Earl Hook, with a 7.4 average, making second team. Also on the high scoring side was Bob Bogert with a 9.8 average.

Victory Comes

To Little Captains

Little Captains seemed to sit on the fence all season, ending with an even 5-5 record. Mr. Dale Fussman, coach, was very well-satisfied with the team and their standing. He has hopes that the squad will do better next year as spirit is boosted by victories. All the squad members received valuable training and show good prospects for a winning team next year.

First Year Records

Since this year is Waterford-Kettering's first year, it will be easy to set records. Hopes are high that these records will be longstanding.

W-KHS track team will be extremely good, even though the separation of the schools has taken some of our fast runners. We hope to have sophomores taking their places.

With four first wins in eight cross country meets, John Popovich is expected to be a threat to oncoming schools.

Running well last year at WTHS and this year in cross country, Larry Harkey, returning letterman, shows good hopes in the 440.

Good prospects are further indicated by up-and-coming track men, Chuck Haviland, Earl Hook, and Chuck Reinhardt.

Mr. Griffith backs our Varsity track team.

Gary Heaton and Ray Heaton warm up during practice.

This year's baseball squad shows good promise with returning lettermen Denny Forslund, Rick Hodler, Doug Lyon, Jerry Goff, Ray Heaton, and Gary Heaton. Also showing promise for the upcoming games on schedule are Jerry Ryan, Rick Pankey, Ray Hedding, Chuck Henderson, Bob Bogert, and Bruce Yuille.

Lacking a home diamond, our team will play its home games on the Pierce Junior High field.

SPECIAL EVENTS

To complete and stabilize our formal education is the purpose of our social activities. Through planning these events, students gain experience in group organization and at the same time have the opportunity to cultivate strong friendships and build character. We spend few hours in preparation for the special moments, but we are rewarded often with the treasured memories.

Sharon and Dick Reign at "Snow Mist"

Guests at Snow Mist danced to the rhythm of the Waterford Township Dance Band from 8:30 until midnight, December 9.

Twins Darryl and Sheryl Bowden served as pages who presented Queen Sharon her flowers and King Dick his scepter.

The Senior Court selected by the student body to reign at the dance included Tom McKinnon, Cynthia Kruchko, Queen Sharon Martin, King Dick Shipman, Ellen Goral, and Jerry Goff.

The Christmas Season Brings Joy to Kettering

Familiar Christmas carols, sung by the cheerful voices of the choir members at the concert, served to stir the Christmas spirit in the hearts of the students. Gaily decorated rooms and the glittering tree in the lobby added to the joy of the season. Above the murmur and constant chatter, one could occasionally hear enthusiastic students making plans for their vacations. When everyone returned after vacation sporting their Christmas presents, the tree and decorations were gone, but the memory of Kettering's first Christmas remained.

Brightly arrayed to resemble a Christmas package, this door is but one of the many ways in which lighthearted Christmas spirit was displayed.

Bob Monroe, Paulette Hempton, Linda Beauchamp, Kay Herin, and Dick Laing seem to enjoy merrymaking as they hang the icicles on the tree, sponsored by the Student Council.

Voices rang out expressively to create happiness with strains of "Jingle Bells" and to praise the Lord with the traditional "Carol of the Drums", under the direction of Mrs. Hendin during the Christmas Concert.

Underclassmen Bid Graduates Farewell

Juniors welcome seniors as they have their last "fling" together.

In an attempt to entertain the '62 graduates before their departure, the junior class was host to a Junior-Senior Event. Contrary to the usual type of social events seniors attend, the evening provided riotous activity for all. Swells of laughter rose from the group during such events as the peanut race. Great excitement mounted at the climax of the evening. Other activities included games in the gym, dancing, and refreshments in the cafeteria. Indeed the seniors deserved the royal treatment they received, as their reign at Waterford-Kettering came to an end.

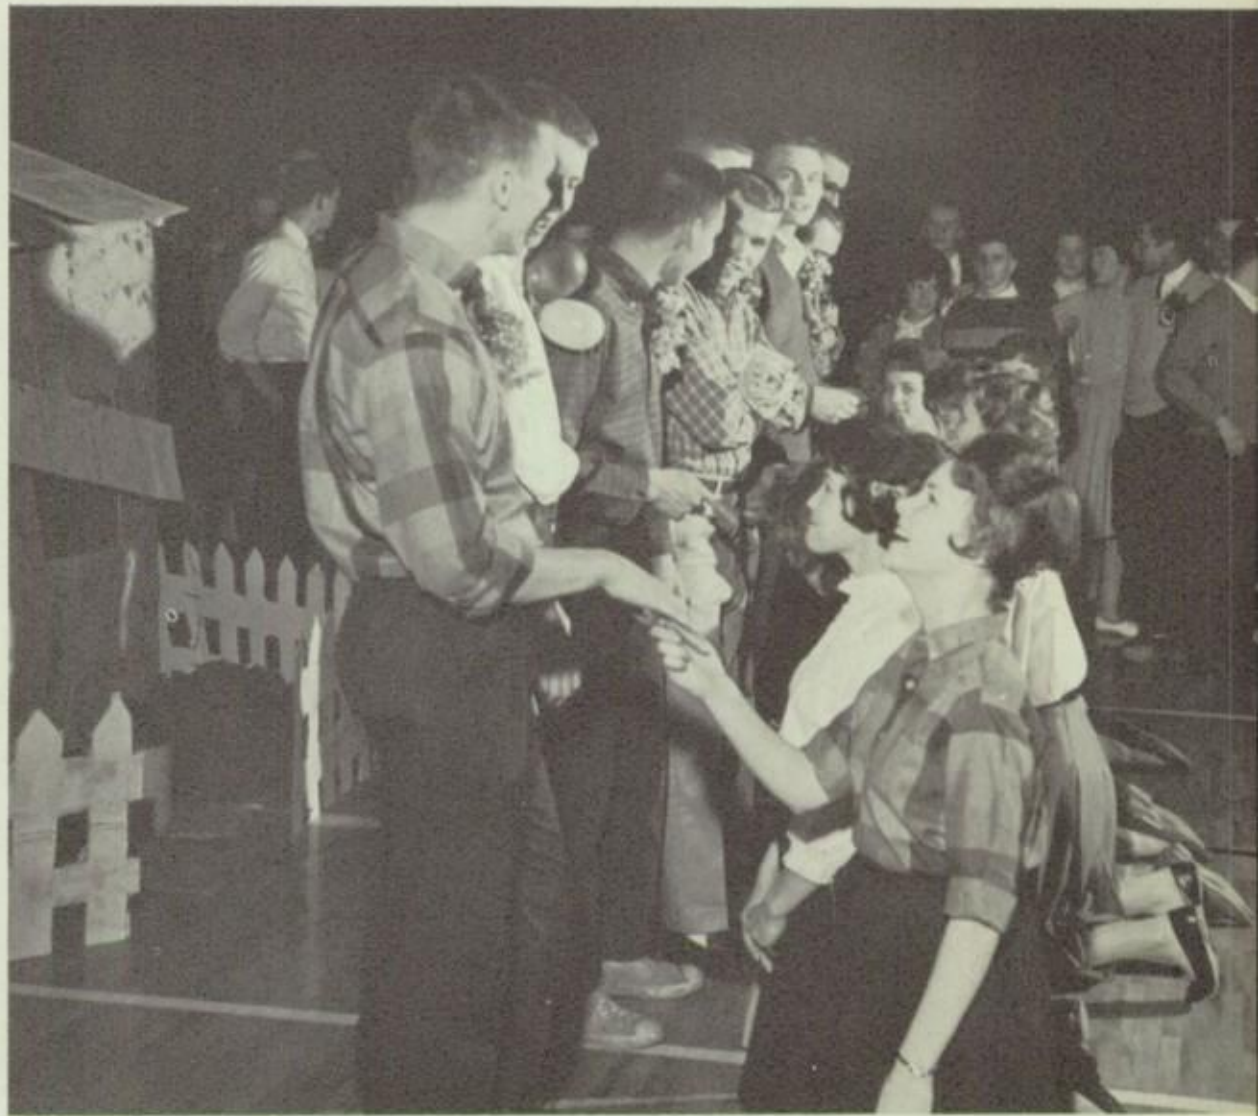

Juniors and seniors participate in the peanut race to determine which class can "push it the fastest".

Girls Treat Boys to "Holiday In Dogpatch"

Sadie Hawkins, as created by Al Capp in the comic strip, has been carried out at Waterford-Kettering this year by the junior class, sponsors of the dance.

Along with wearing sweatshirts and carrying boys' books, girls also treated their dates to "Holiday In Dogpatch" and paid for any other expenses.

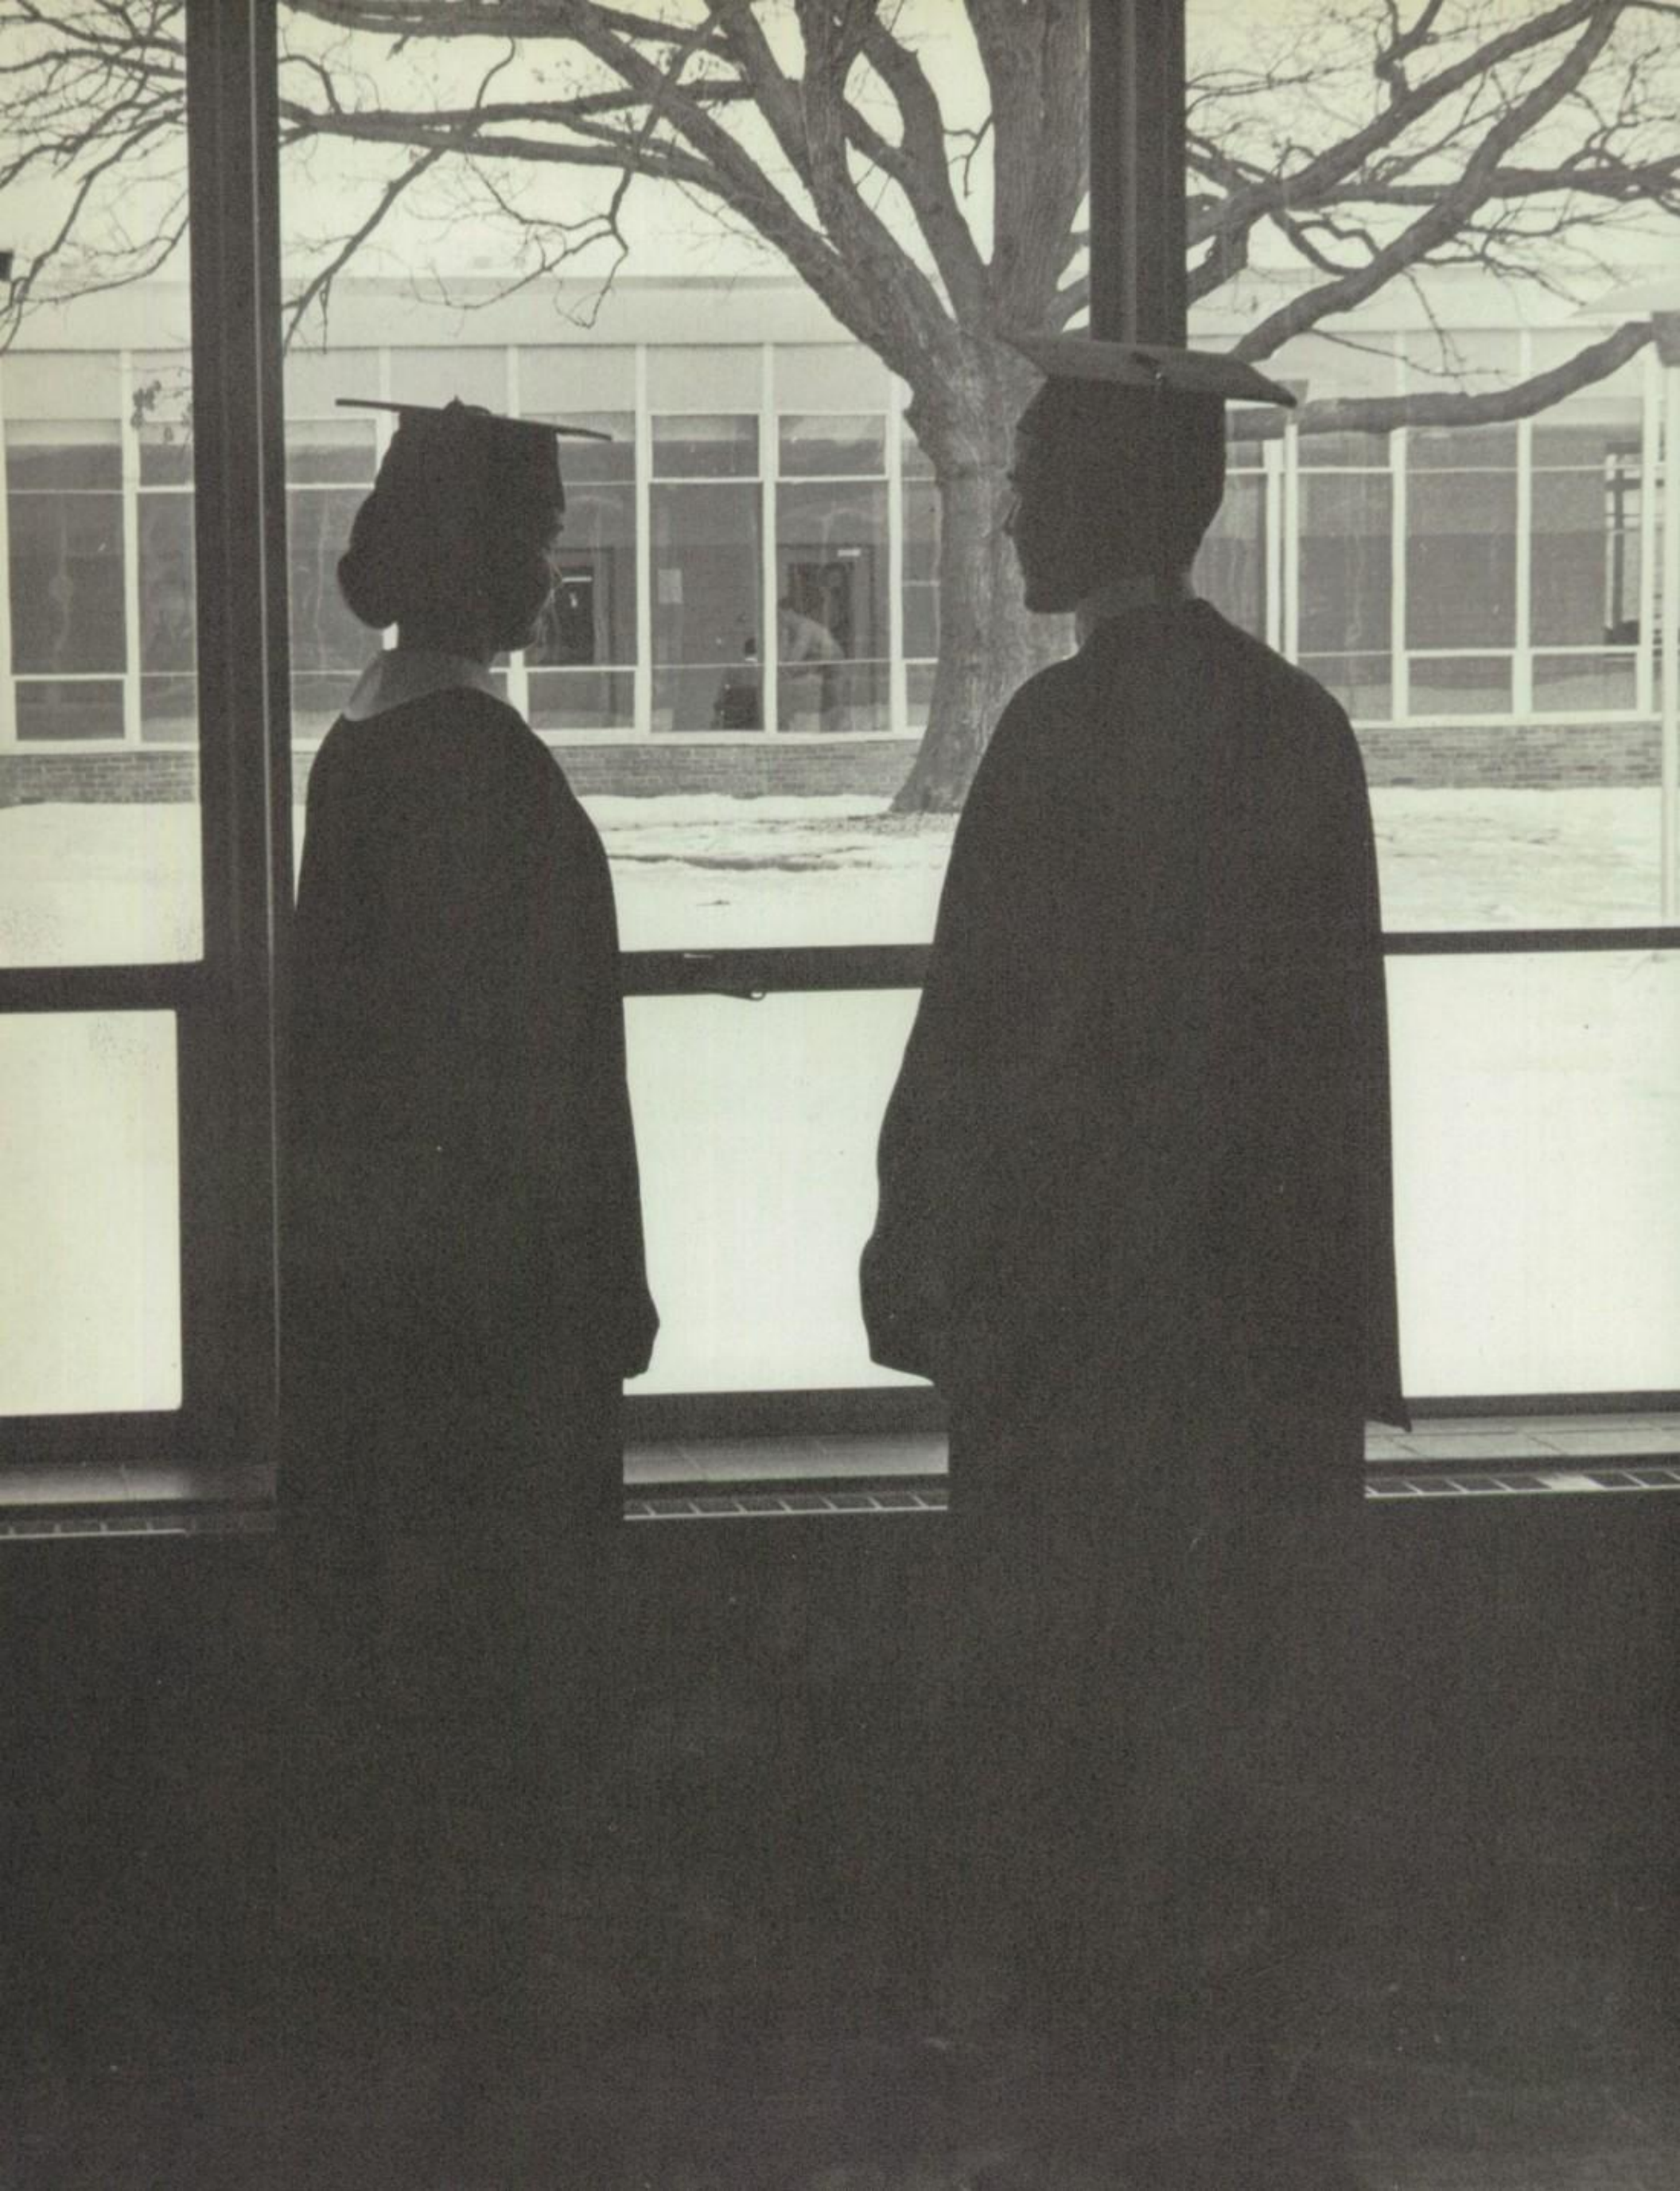

"Will you dance with me?" was the question these young ladies asked their dates on bended knees.

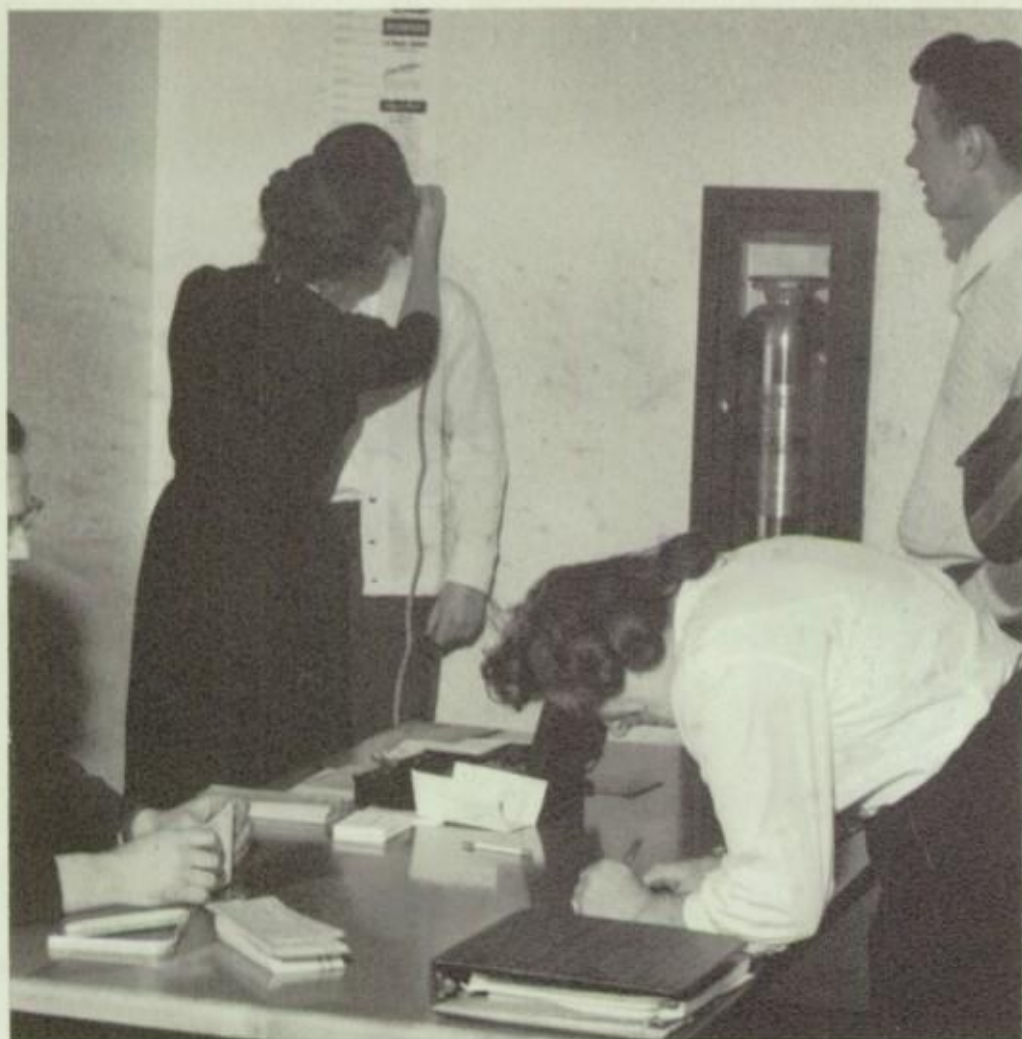

Wearing their corsages made of balloons, paper, and ribbon are many good sports who attended the junior class Sadie Hawkins Dance.

Larry Hopps displays his extremely original corsage made by his date for this gala occasion.

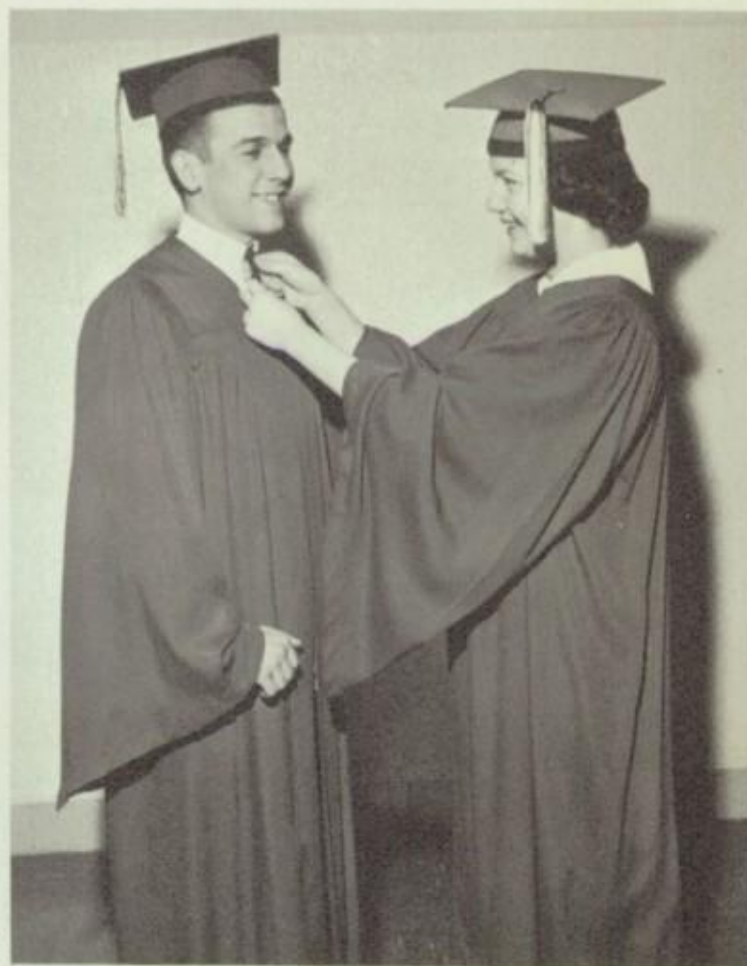

Graduation Climaxes Seniors Activities

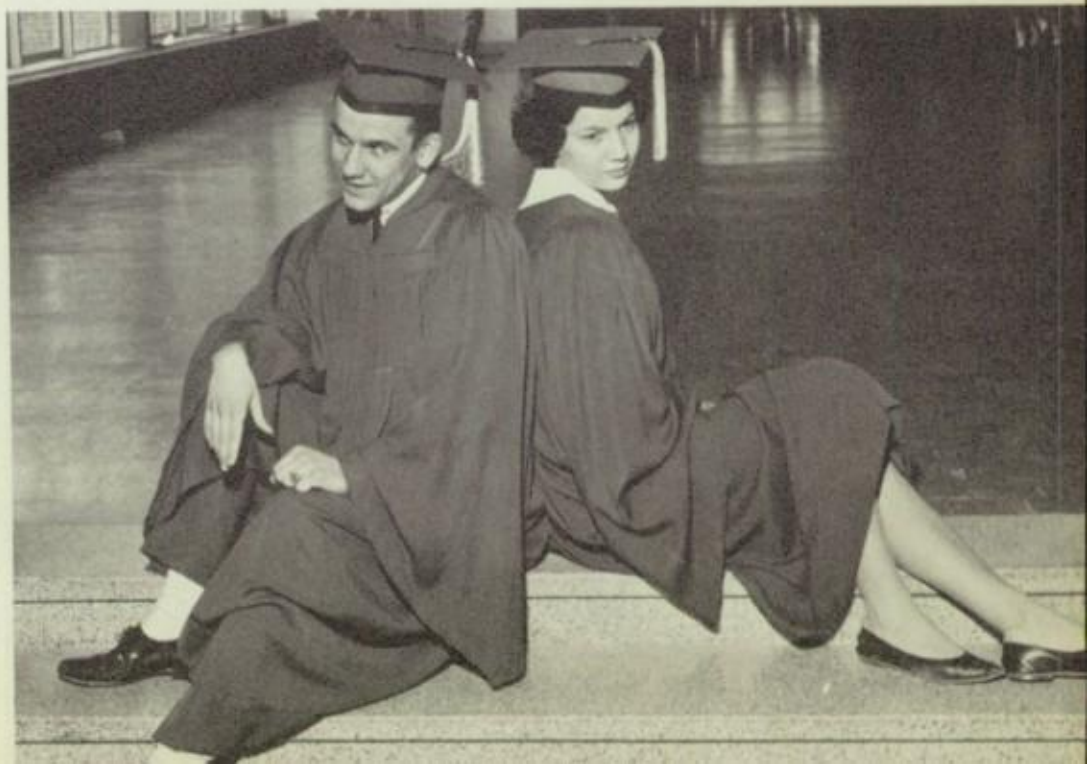

Seniors are fitted for caps and gowns in anticipation of graduation.

Judy Kunse adjusts Brad Chase's tie before Commencement.

Returning as seniors, we discovered that time was swiftly fleeting by. Suddenly we found ourselves being fitted for caps and gowns and cramming for final exams. Then we were ready for the solemn march down the aisle to receive our diplomas. At Commencement we filed in a long line, clad in green caps and gowns, to the long rows of seats. Intently we listened as the Valedictorian delivered her farewell message. As each name was called, a somber graduate rose and moved to the platform. From this time on we will no longer be students of Waterford-Kettering but determined individuals meeting challenges and seeking higher goals.

Brad Chase and Judy Kunse reflect the varied feelings of many seniors and ponder the future.

Anticipated Prom Becomes Reality

The long awaited night has finally come—seniors in their formal attire, dance dreamily to the harmony of the orchestra while memories of the year pass through their minds as one of the happiest years of their lives.

During the intermission refreshments are served while seniors gaily talk of the elaborate decorations and how they will miss all their classmates, and the happy times they have had at school. Others find the intermission a life saver for their cramped feet.

As the last dance is played, many of the eyes become misty as the seniors realize that their gay school days are almost over and that long-awaited graduation day will soon be upon them.

Jill Hetherington and Janet Collins find relief.

Jeri Hobby and date dance to the melody of the orchestra.

In Memoriam

"Anything as a monument, serving to preserve the memory of a person," are the words that define a memorial. For this purpose we have set aside this page in memory of a dedicated educator and a sincere friend, Mr. Cecil Meyers. The death of Mr. Meyers deprived our school of a man dedicated to it and its function. After receiving a Bachelor of Science degree from Western Michigan University in 1934, he went on to additional work at the University of Michigan, Purdue University, and Wayne State. Having completed his own education, he came to the Waterford Township School System approximately 15 years ago, ten of which he served as Chairman of the Science Department. In order to raise science academic standards, he organized the Oakland County Science Teachers Association and our annual Science Fair.

Our sole desire is, at this time, to acknowledge the years of service he has rendered, and to pay tribute to a man whose life was devoted to the world of education.

Nancy:
To a real nice sweet girl. Lots of luck in the future.

The finishing touch

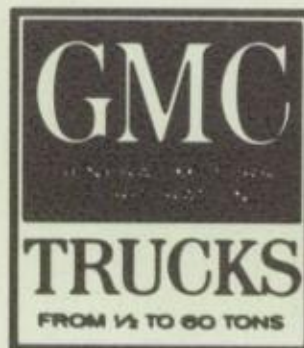

Switching the tassel makes it so. You're no longer a student. You are the graduate. Congratulations on this memorable occasion.

After you have tucked the cherished diploma in its special place, what happens next—college, special training, a job? Choose wisely and carefully.

Whatever your decision, we wish you every success. And we open to you the door of employment opportunity. We are also anxious to help qualified graduates gain entry into General Motors Institute.

Only you can make this finishing touch the new start of even more personal achievements, exciting adventure and full, happy years. Start today.

Nancy! Well, I guess I you're a real sweet. I haven't say. We sure to nice a girl. I was in school. I live of it. I've always to had good. I can't say. We sure to people don't have a lot of fun. I are a real thing. You or you stay home. You course. I'm glad we've had you much in it. I know too. When a couple of classes. Don't forget together. The closet in the to all of your room. Be good too, and I had any. Love mine. Love you

Judy

Nancy, you're a real nice and made a capital class worth while. You made me mad when we had to do jumping
jacks. Love
